Cuban Troops Deployed Near U.S. Naval Base

5,000-6,000 Soldiers Not Expected To Cause Trouble, Navy Says

GUANTANAMO NAVAL BASE, Cuba (AP)—Fidel Castro has deployed about 5,000 to 6,000 troops near this U.S. base in eastern Cuba, according to the intelligence reaching American Navy and Marine commanders.

But U.S. military authorities believe these regulars, bolstered by thousands of militiamen, are there to keep the Cuban people in check rather than to mount an attack on this vital American fleet base.

Guantanamo's command doubts the likelihood of any serious Cuban threat to the 45-square-mile base, but the entire military force of about 3,000 men has been trained to fight if trouble comes.

So far little of the new military gear the Soviet Union has supplied to Castro's regime has shown up near this U.S. enclave. Rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell, base commander, said his patrols have not sighted any missile-armed torpedo boats which President Kennedy said have been sent to Cuba.

O'Donnell reported Soviet-made trucks are operating outside Guantanamo's fence, but they have been in the area for some time.

Persons suspected of being Communist bloc nationals, including some Asians, have been spotted near the base.

Castro has perhaps 100 Soviet-made Mig fighters, but there have been no intrusions of Guantanamo's air space since the spring of 1961.

Most of Castro's forces in this area are stationed some miles from Guantanamo's 26-mile perimeter, but the Cubans maintain a line of one and two-man outposts within 100 yards of the base fence.

U.S. officers generally rate the Cuban soldiers facing Guantanamo as of good quality and well disciplined.

This has prompted speculation that name calling, rock throwing and other harassment of U.S. sentinels may be an officially inspired effort to provoke U.S. Marines into counter action.

U.S. guards have been ordered to refrain from shouting back or making any gestures that Cuban cameras could photograph to back up Castro's claims that U.S. military forces are engaged in provocative acts.

Castro has one effective means of turning the screw on Guantanamo if he wishes. The big base's water supply comes from inside Cuban territory, but so far he has made no attempt to cut it off.

Blue Law Raid Nets 13 Arrests

CLEVELAND (AP) — Uncle Bill's Discount Store in Midtown Shopping Center in suburban Parma was raided Sunday by Parma police. They arrested 13 employees for violating the Ohio Sunday closing law.

The group, including two top company executives, was held for three hours for booking and fingerprinting and then released on bond.

Those arrested included Keith Miller, general manager of Claber Distributing Co., operator of Uncle Bill's, and his wife, Shirley, assistant to the president.

Sabin Vaccine Controversy Fails To Halt Ohio Program

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The recommendation that Type III Sabin vaccine not be used had little effect in Ohio Sunday as more than 600,000 persons turned out for doses of the oral polio vaccine. None of the doses, however, were reported to be the controversial Type III.

An estimated 578,000 persons in the greater Cincinnati area, which includes three Northern Kentucky counties, took the third in the series of doses, Type II. The total was greater than the number responding for the second—Type I—dose Aug. 5.

In Cincinnati, 215,198 received Type II vaccine Sunday compared to 195,652 in August.

Type III vaccine had been the first given in the Cincinnati area 12 weeks ago to about 552,000 residents.

In the other areas of the state where mass immunization was taking place Sunday, the vaccine was the first of the series and Type I was used.

About 30 per cent of Huron County's 45,000 citizens took their first dose. Officials of the drive said the 14,500 taking the vaccine was a fairly good response considering the adverse publicity given Type III.

About 52,300 persons swallowed the first — Type I — vaccine in Lake County, about one third of the population there. However, C. B. McKnight, information director for the drive, said about 50,000 other Lake County residents were reported to have taken the vaccine in the Cleveland drive this summer and another 25,000 took it during campaigns in neighboring Geauga and Ashtabula counties.

The first phase of the Ottawa County program Sunday was termed an overwhelming success. The turnout there was 17,721, but officials said the recommendation by the surgeon general about Type III did have an adverse effect.

In an attempt to dispel doubts about the Ottawa County drive, every minister in the county read to his congregation Sunday a statement by local officials that the program was going ahead on schedule and the vaccine being used was Type I, not the type in question.

Still other counties announced they will go ahead with plans for programs later in the month.

In Newark, Dr. I. A. Nickerson, chairman of the Licking County Sabin oral polio vaccine program, said the county would proceed with its plans as scheduled. Officials had contemplated postponing the program, Nickerson said, but decided not to. Licking County plans to begin its vaccine program by administering Type I Sept. 23.

At Ottawa in Putnam County, Dr. Walter H. Donahue, president of the county medical society, said that county had a turnout (Continued on Page 10)

Young Wife Proud of Mate Who Served as Counterspy

NEW YORK (AP)—"You don't know how hard it is for a woman to keep a secret for three years," says a young wife who knew her husband was feeding government information to the Russians while working as an FBI counterspy.

"I'm proud of the job he did," Lois Flink told newsmen Sunday. Then, with a sigh of relief, "and I'm very glad it's over."

Mrs. Flink, 24, said that when her husband-to-be, Richard A. Flink, 27, disclosed his undercover role shortly before their marriage in June 1960, she was "very nervous at first."

But, she said, "he explained the whole thing to me and I agreed to go along with it."

Flink, a Republican candidate for New York State assemblyman, said he was partly motivated in his undercover work by his hatred of Soviet anti-Semitism.

The Justice Department disclosed Flink's undercover adventure Saturday night.

Flink, a Queens, N.Y., lawyer-politician, posed as a Communist spy for a $3,000 payoff while keeping the FBI abreast of information he gave to two Soviet employees of the United Nations, the department said.

Flink's Democratic opponent in the Nov. 6 elections said he was going to communicate with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy about the Justice Department report "to see if there is any more to it."

Flink, who never had held elective office, is running against Queens lawyer J. Lewis Fox, who is seeking re-election to the state assembly where he has served 14 years.

Fox, 52, said he was puzzled by some things in the department's report and was trying to figure out why Kennedy, a Democrat like himself, released it just at this time—two months before the election.

Fox told newsmen he could not understand what type information Flink could supply the Russians on the Republican party that the Russians couldn't have gotten from public records of the party.

"There's something more to it than appears on the surface," Fox said. "I don't know what it is."

Kennedy was understood to have put the story out now because (1) the case was cleaned up and (2) because he thought Flink was about to use it in his campaign.

Kennedy's announcement identified the two Soviet U.N. employees who contacted Flink as translator Yuri A. Mishukov, 31, and political affairs officer Yuri V. Zaitsev, 38, who have since returned to their country.

The Russians, the report said, asked Flink for information about internal operations of the United States government agencies and personal information about influential members of Flink's political party.

A Justice Department spokesman said the Russians also asked Flink to advocate "policies favorable to the Soviet Union" if he was elected to the state Assembly.

Local President Al Moro said the walkout today is authorized and the company has been given the proper notice of the strike according to terms of the contract. Moro said the company has refused to discuss the problems involved if the employees are off work.

Rock-n-Roll Irks College Carpenter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — There's at least one Columbus carpenter who is particular about the music he hears.

Capital University officials here became somewhat curious when a carpenter's work in the student union seemed to be proceeding slowly.

An investigation showed that the carpenter objected to rock and roll music played on the union's juke box. So, whenever anyone played such a tune, he simply stopped working.

The situation was remedied by putting a sign on the jukebox while the carpenter was at work. The sign read: "Out of order."

Italy Launches Biggest Ship Since World War

GENOA, Italy (AP) — The 43,000-ton Michelangelo, the biggest Italian ocean liner built since World War II, slid down the ways in this North Italian port Sunday.

The Michelangelo, 825 feet long with accommodations for 1,850 passengers and a crew of 720, is scheduled for service on the North American run by the summer of 1964.

A sister ship, the Raffaello, is under construction in Trieste.

Doctors Delay Polio Vaccine Program Here

National questions raised on Type III of the Sabin oral polio vaccine have caused a delay in the mass immunization scheduled here Sept. 30.

Drs. H. H. Swope and Frank Moore, co-chairmen of the vaccine program in Pickaway County, today announced that the program has been tentatively rescheduled for Sunday, Nov. 11.

The delay, according to the local physicians, should provide ample time in clearing up any doubts concerning the usage of the oral vaccine.

Medical reports have stated that no cases of polio in children have been attributed to the Sabin vaccine and those who may have become afflicted were all over 50 years of age.

DR. SWOPE said although Columbus and other surrounding communities are going ahead with the scheduled program on Sept. 30, the local immunization program will not be put into effect until November 11.

Unfavorable publicity has created too much doubt in the public's mind as to the safety of the vaccine, the doctors stated. The extra time will allow for clarification of these doubts as well as serving as an "extra precautionary measure," they added.

Classified Ad Power Hailed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Representatives for builders, auto dealers and realtors Sunday praised classified advertising, calling it a service to the public and a leading sales factor.

The comments came at the closing session of the two-day six annual Ohio Newspaper Classifieds Clinic here. About 120 classified ad managers, supervisors and sales personnel attended the meetings.

The speakers were Clifford M. St. Clair of Columbus, executive vice president of the Ohio Home Builders Association; Ray Walker of Newark, first vice president of the Ohio Automobile Dealers Association; and Vernon F. Groff of Dayton, president of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards.

Missing Dayton Aide Found, Said To Be Amnesia Victim

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — David Pottinger, 26-year-old Dayton city commissioner who disappeared more than six weeks ago, was found early today at Knoxville, Tenn., an apparent amnesia victim, Police Capt. Ricard Grunish reported.

Grunish said he was told by Pottinger's wife, Martha, that her husband was found in a muddy ditch and that he was taken to University Hospital in Knoxville. Authorities there said he apparently had amnesia. Pottinger also had minor scalp wounds.

The captain said Mrs. Pottinger talked to her husband early today by phone.

Pottinger vanished the night of Aug. 1 after attending a meeting of Dayton commissioners. His blood-stained station wagon was found abandoned in a parking lot.

Town Sours As Man Pays All Its Taxes

ROCK PORT, Mo. (AP)—George Opp, who paid all of this town's taxes two years ago, says he is feeling the whiplash of jealousy among the townspeople.

As a result, he has closed his restaurant and the only hotel in town.

Opp, who is 70, owns several thousand acres of rich cornland. He had operated the 38-room hotel 32 years.

Two years ago, Opp paid the taxes for all Rock Port's 1,380 residents — $19,209. Last year he gave nearly $1,000 to send 4-H club members to Washington.

National publicity resulted, but with it came jealousy, he said. He didn't mind a little criticism, but he felt too many persons weren't supporting him.

"It's kind of a crazy story. It looks like it's awful hard to help a local community where you have been raised," Opp said. "I'd be glad to go along like I did, but it seems like it's impossible with all that jealousy. They're throwing a lot of bouquets now—but it's just like the cow that kicked over the milk bucket. It's too late."

His publicity brought more than 6,000 letters, he said.

"We're still getting them. Most of them now are just begging."

Another Soviet Nuclear Blast Is Detected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has fired another nuclear test in the atmosphere over the area of Novaya Zemlya, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission reports.

9 Men Selected For Lunar Jaunt

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Nine new astronauts, including two civilians, were added to the nation's space team today.

The new group boosted to 16 the number of astronauts who will man the space flights for which President John F. Kennedy has set a goal of reaching the moon in this decade.

Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center, formally presented the new group to the nation at an afternoon press conference at Cullen Auditorium on the campus of the University of Houston.

Gilruth said the nine already have been assigned to a comprehensive training program at the center to prepare them for possible space flights.

In addition to the two civilians, the group includes four Air Force officers and three Navy officers. All have test pilot experience.

The civilians are Neil A. Armstrong, 32, a native of Wapakoneta, Ohio, and currently a test pilot with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., and Elliot M. See Jr., 35, a native of Dallas, Tex., and experimental test pilot for the General Electric Co.

The Air Force men are: Maj. Frank Borman, 34, a native of Gary, Ind., an instructor in the Aerospace Research Pilot School at Edwards AFB.

Capt. James A. McDivitt, 33, a native of Chicago, an experimental flight test officer at Edwards AFB.

Capt. Thomas P. Stafford, 32, a native of Weatherford, Okla., chief of the performance branch at the experimental test flight division of the Aerospace Research Pilot School at Edwards AFB.

Capt. Edward H. White II, 32, a native of San Antonio, Tex., an experimental test pilot at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio.

The Navy officers are: Lt. Charles Conrad Jr., 32, a native of Philadelphia, a safety officer for Fighter Squadron 142. (His station was not specified).

Lt. Cmdr. James A. Lovell Jr., 34, a native of Cleveland, Ohio, a flight instructor and safety officer at the Naval Air Station at Oceana, Va.

Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young, 32, a native of San Francisco, maintenance officer for Fighter Squadron 53 at the Naval Air Station, Miramar, Calif.

The seven project Mercury astronauts selected in April 1959 included three Navy officers, three Air Force pilots and one Marine pilot.

The average age of the new astronauts is 32.5 years, as compared with 34.5 for the 1959 group at the time of their selection.

Gilruth said selection of the nine test pilots today culminates six (Continued on Page 2)

Thant Expected To Get UN Post

5-Year-Term Seen For Burmese Envoy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Diplomats from various parts of the world predicted today that the 17th General Assembly opening Tuesday will name U Thant of Burma to a full five-year term as secretary-general of the United Nations.

Thant is acting secretary-general, serving out the unexpired term of the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld that ends next April 10. He was elected last Nov. 3 after Hammarskjöld's death in a plane crash in Africa a year ago today.

U.S. delegate Charles W. Yost, previewing the assembly session Sunday, indicated that the U.S. delegation expects Thant to be re-elected.

Yost told New York area members of the American Association for the United Nations: "The performance of the acting secretary-general has been so outstanding and has met with such universal support among the members that we doubt if this will be the subject of serious controversy."

"We would be very much surprised if the Soviets were to raise again the matter of the troika, which was so decisively defeated last year."

In negotiations on Hammarskjöld's successor, the Soviet Union first insisted that the management of the United Nations be taken over by three of its under-secretaries—an American, an Indian and a Russian.

But this so-called troika plan proved unpopular, and the Russians later shelved it and joined in the election of Thant on condition he function with the counsel of certain "principal advisers" representing various regions of the world.

The Soviet Union could block his continuance in office by vetoing him in the Security Council, which must recommend him before the assembly can re-elect him.

Weather Is Mild After Tornado Rips

The weather showed its gentle side today, after a tornado ripped like a buzzsaw Sunday through Rochester, Minn.

Mild rains washed many parts of the southeast and central portions of the nation, while 70-degree weather stretched from North Carolina in a belt nearly across the continent to California.

The twister in Rochester reduced the wreckage a quarter-mile path, 100 feet wide, through the southeastern Minnesota city.

Thirteen persons were injured. Four were still hospitalized today. Nine homes were wrecked and the Red Cross estimated damage at $300,000.

Most of the residents were asleep when it struck.

Radioactive Fallout in U.S. Not Dangerous, Experts Say

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze says a federal board has found that radioactive fallout is not at dangerous levels in the United States at this time.

The group said it would not recommend the preventive and countermeasures taken recently when radioactivity counts shot to high levels in some areas.

The Federal Radiation Council, top-ranking government body dealing with the problems of radiation fallout, issued a report today on its meeting of a week ago.

Celebrezze said Sunday in a television interview that the council had concluded there is no great danger to the nation from fallout at this time. He heads the group.

The council's report did not mention the areas involved or the countermeasures taken.

When the count of radioactive iodine 131 in milk reached an average of 580 micromicrocuries per day during July in Salt Lake City, Utah, the dairy industry there undertook voluntary control measures.

The Public Health Service at the time said these measures included shifting dairy herds from fresh pasture to stored feed, and diversion of some fresh milk supplies to production of butter and cheese to allow time for the iodine 131 to decay.

Last year the council set guidelines for radiation intake and established the maximum safe limit on iodine 131 at 100 micromicrocuries per day, or 36,500 per year.

"The council believes that individual fallout situations require individual evaluation before specific action is taken," the report said.

"Radiation exposures anywhere near the guides involves risks so slight that countermeasures may well have a net adverse rather than favorable effect on the public."

Doctors Delay Polio Vaccine Program Here

National questions raised on Type III of the Sabin oral polio vaccine have caused a delay in the the m a s immunization scheduled here Sept. 30.

Drs. H. H. Swope and Frank Moore, co-chairmen of the vaccine program in Pickaway County, today announced that the program has been tentatively rescheduled for Sunday, Nov. 11.

The delay, according to the local physicians, should provide ample time in clearing up any doubts concerning the usage of the oral vaccine.

Medical reports have stated that no cases of polio in children have been attributed to the Sabin vaccine and those who may have become afflicted were all over 50 years of age.

DR. SWOPE said although Columbus and other surrounding communities are going ahead with the scheduled program on Sept. 30, the local immunization program will not be put into effect until November 11.

Unfavorable publicity has created too much doubt in the public's mind as to the safety of the vaccine, the doctors stated. The extra time will allow for clarification of these doubts as well as serving as an "extra precautionary measure," they added.

Town Sours As Man Pays All Its Taxes

ROCK PORT, Mo. (AP)—George Opp, who paid all of this town's taxes two years ago, says he is feeling the whirlwind of jealousy among the townspeople. As a result, he has closed his restaurant and the only hotel in town.

Opp, who is 70, owns several thousand acres of rich cornland. He had operated the 38-room hotel 32 years.

Two years ago, Opp paid the taxes for all Rock Port's 1,380 residents — $19,209. Last year he gave nearly $1,000 to send 4-H club members to Washington.

National publicity resulted, but with it came jealousy, he said. He didn't mind a little criticism, but he felt too many persons weren't supporting him.

"It's kind of a crazy story. It looks like it's awful hard to help a local community where you have been raised," Opp said.

"I'd be glad to go along like I did, but it seems like it's impossible with all that jealousy. They're throwing a lot of bou-quets now—but it's just like the cow that kicked over the milk bucket. It's too late."

His publicity brought more than 6,000 letters, he said.

"Were still getting them. Most of them now are just begging."

Another Soviet Nuclear Air Blast Is Detected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has fired another nuclear test in the atmosphere over the area of Novaya Zemlya, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission reports.

The AEC said Sunday's test had a force equal to the explosion of several million tons of TNT, like the Soviet test in the same area Saturday. Sunday's shot was the 12th announced by the AEC in the current Soviet series.

9 Men Selected For Lunar Jaunt

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Nine new astronauts, including two civilians, were added to the nation's space team today.

The new group boosted to 16 the number of astronauts who will man the space flights for which President John F. Kennedy has set a goal of reaching the moon in this decade.

Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center, formally presented the new group to the nation at an afternoon press conference at Cullen Auditorium on the campus of the University of Houston.

Gilruth said the nine already have been assigned to a comprehensive training program at the center to prepare them for possible space flights.

In addition to the two civilians, the group includes four Air Force officers and three Navy officers. All have test pilot experience.

The civilians are Neil A. Armstrong, 32, a native of Wapakoneta, Ohio, and currently a test pilot with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., and Elliot M. See Jr., 35, a native of Dallas, Tex., and experimental test pilot for the General Electric Co.

The Air Force men are: Maj. Frank Borman, 34, a native of Gary Ind., an instructor in the Aerospace Research Pilot School at Edwards AFB.

Capt. James A. McDivitt, 33, a native of Chicago, an experimental flight test officer at Edwards AFB.

Capt. Thomas P. Stafford, 32, a native of Weatherford, Okla., chief of the performance branch at the experimental test flight division of the Aerospace Research Pilot School at Edwards AFB.

Capt. Edward H. White II, 32, a native of San Antonio, Tex., an experimental test pilot at Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio.

The Navy officers are: Lt. Charles Conrad Jr., 32, a native of Philadelphia, a safety officer for Fighter Squadron 142. (His station was not specified).

Lt. Cmdr James A. Lovell Jr., 34, a native of Cleveland, Ohio, a flight instructor and safety officer at the Naval Air Station at Oceana, Va.

Lt. Cmdr John W. Young, 32, a native of San Francisco, maintenance officer for Fighter Squadron 53 at the Naval Air Station, Miramar, Calif.

The seven project Mercury astronauts selected in April 1959 included three Navy officers, three Air Force pilots and one Marine pilot.

The average age of the new astronauts is 32.5 years, as compared with 34.5 for the 1959 group at the time of their selection.

Gilruth said selection of the nine test pilots today culminates six (Continued on Page 2)

Thant Expected To Get UN Post

5-Year-Term Seen For Burmese Envoy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Diplomats from various parts of the world predicted today that the 17th General Assembly opening Tuesday will name U Thant of Burma to a full five-year term as secretary-general of the United Nations.

Thant is acting secretary-general, serving out the unexpired term of the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold that ends next April 10. He was elected last Nov. 3 after Hammarskjold's death in a plane crash in Africa a year ago today.

U.S. delegate Charles W. Yost, previewing the assembly session Sunday, indicated that the U.S. delegation expects Thant to be re-elected.

Yost told New York area members of the American Association for the United Nations: "The performance of the acting secretary-general has been so outstanding and has met with such universal support among the members that we doubt if this will be the subject of serious controversy."

"We would be very much surprised if the Soviets were to raise again the matter of the troika, which was so decisively defeated last year."

In negotiations on Hammarskjold's successor, the Soviet Union first insisted that the management of the United Nations be taken over by three of its under-secretaries—an American, an Indian and a Russian.

But this so-called troika plan proved unpopular, and the Russians later shelved it and joined in the election of Thant on condition he function with the counsel of certain "principal advisers" representing various regions of the world.

The Soviet Union could block his continuance in office by vetoing him in the Security Council, which must recommend him before the assembly can re-elect him.

Weather Is Mild After Tornado Rips

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The weather showed its gentle side today, after a tornado ripped like a buzzsaw Sunday through Rochester, Minn.

Mild rains washed many parts of the southeast and central portions of the nation, while 70-degree weather stretched from North Carolina in a belt nearly across the continent to California. The twister in Rochester reduced the wreckage a quarter-mile path, 100 feet wide, through the southeastern Minnesota city.

Thirteen persons were injured. Four were still hospitalized today. Nine homes were wrecked and the Red Cross estimated damage at $300,000.

Most of the residents were asleep when it struck.

Radioactive Fallout in U.S. Not Dangerous, Experts Say

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze says a federal board has found that radioactive fallout is not at dangerous levels in the United States at this time.

The group said it would not recommend the preventive and countermeasures taken recently when radioactivity counts shot to high levels in some areas.

The Federal Radiation Council, top-ranking government body dealing with the problems of radiation fallout, issued a report to day on its meeting of a week ago.

Celebrezze said Sunday in a television interview that the council had concluded there is no great danger to the nation from fallout at this time. He heads the group.

The council's report did not mention the areas involved or the countermeasures taken.

When the count of radioactive iodine 131 in milk reached an average of 580 micromicrocuries per day during July in Salt Lake City, Utah, the dairy industry there undertook voluntary control measures.

The Public Health Service at the time said these measures included shifting dairy herds from fresh pasturage to stored feed, and diversion of some fresh milk supplies to production of butter and cheese to allow time for the iodine 131 to decay.

Last year the council set guidelines for radiation intake and established the maximum safe limit on iodine 131 at 100 micromicrocuries per day, or 36,500 per year.

"The council believes that individual fallout situations require individual evaluation before specific action is taken," the report said.

"Radiation exposures anywhere near the guidelines involves risks so slight that countermeasures may well have a net adverse rather than favorable effect on the public wellbeing."

Animal, Reptile Bites Treated At Hospital

Virginia Frazee, 41, Route 3, was bitten by a cat on her right hand and fingers.

John Smith, 13, of 377 Weldon Ave., suffered a dog bite on his right hip and the back of his leg.

Wesley E. Humble, 17 months, son of Rev. and Mrs. Richard Humble, 447 E. Ohio St., fell and lacerated his chin.

Lawrence Pritchard, 20, of 417 Lancaster Pike, burned his right hand on machinery while at work.

Paul E. Stevens, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Stevens, Laurelville, shut a car door on his right hand.

Stocks Push Up Slightly

NEW YORK (AP) — Spotty strength pushed an irregular stock market slightly to the upside in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 224.0, with industrials up .9, rails up .1 and utilities unchanged.

Some of the chemicals, aerospace, issues, and motors helped industrials to show a gain on balance. Drugs tended to back off slightly amid news affecting some of these companies.

The pattern was narrowly uneven among utilities, rails and airlines. Rubbers and nonferrous metals showed a slightly lower trend as did steels. The steel industry was reported to show no signs of a pickup.

Although new car sales were 29 per cent above the year ago level in early September, they ran at the lowest level of 1962, reflecting the usual slump at the end of the model year.

DiSalle Urges 10-Year Plan For Ohio Research, Growth

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle proposed today a 10-year, $100-million program to establish an Ohio research and development institute and prepare the state for the uncharted future.

The candidate for a second year term as governor said the program would involve all six state - supported institutions of higher learning.

He labeled it "Ohio's keystone for success today and tomorrow."

It was DiSalle's first wholly new program of the 1962 campaign.

He proposes to finance the ambitious project through use of money now earmarked for retirement of World War II bonus bonds. That bond issue will be paid off Dec. 31, 1963, and DiSalle said the money will be available thereafter.

Ever since Ohio voters approved the bonus soon after the close of World War II, the state treasury has paid over $1 million a month to retire the bonus bonds. DiSalle proposes to use about 80 per cent of this money—$10 million a year—to finance the space-age research and development institute as an "investment in the well-being of our people and society."

The governor said his proposal is possible "because the (Democratic - controlled) 103rd General Assembly (in 1959) put Ohio on a pay-as-you-go financial basis, halting the trend toward more and more bond financing and reducing Ohio's bonded debt."

DiSalle's proposal for the project designed to put Ohio in the forefront of research in the complex new world of the so-called exotic industries also would, he said:

Sheriff Probes Two Burglaries

Burglars who entered the Ashville Elementary School late Friday or early Saturday made off with between four and eight dollars, according to a report of the County Sheriff's Department.

The thief or thieves left untouched a shopping bag containing nearly $200, according to school officials. The money was payment for school insurance policies for the students there.

Another illegal entry was investigated by the Sheriff's Department at the American Legion home on Route 23. Burglars there netted only a little over nine dollars according to the report. The entry there occurred between 1:30 a. m. and 2:10 p. m. Sunday. Both incidents were investigated by Deputy Gene Kerns.

Searchers Fail To Find Missing County Resident

The organized search party that scoured the area near the residence of the missing Henry Schwalbach failed to find any clues concerning the Walnut Twp. resident who disappeared July 8, according to Pickaway County Sheriff Walt Spangler.

About 25 persons, including members of the local unit of the Ohio National Guard, aided the sheriff's department in the investigation. Schwalbach lived in Walnut Twp. near the junction of the Red Bridge and the Circleville - Winchester Roads. He was last seen near his home shooting birds with a rifle.

months of extensive evaluation of qualifications of 253 volunteers from among military and civilian applicants.

A medical examination and other preliminary tests cut the group of candidates to 31. During July and August, the 31 were given comprehensive medical examinations.

During the week of Aug. 12, the 31 were brought to the spacecraft center here and were given a final evaluation through a final series of examinations, tests and interviews.

Gilruth said there were five basic qualifications for final selection:

Experience as a jet test pilot preferably presently engaged in flying high-performance aircraft.

Experimental flight test status attained through military service, the aircraft industries for NASA or possession of a certificate of graduation from a military test pilot school.

Possession of a degree in physical or biological sciences or engineering.

U.S. citizenship, age less than 35 at the time of selection and height 6 feet or less.

Recommendation from the individual's organization.

Average age of the original seven is 38. John H. Glenn Jr., first American to orbit the earth and eldest of the seven, is 41.

The Mercury astronauts are still very much on the flying list despite their age, space officials said. They explained the amount of time a man can remain on flying status is an individual matter, depending solely on his physical and mental condition.

Walter Schirra, scheduled to make a six-orbit flight in a Mercury capsule Sept. 28, is 39.

The new astronauts will be prime candidates for the Gemini project to put two men into orbit in a single capsule. Experienced spacemen probably will be paired with the new astronauts to take advantage of things learned in the Mercury program, NASA spokesmen said.

The Apollo project is designed to place two men on the lunar surface. Gemini will give the astronauts practice in making a space rendezvous, required by present Apollo plans.

Nine more astronauts are expected to be named about the time the Apollo flights begin.

County Cooperation Sought For Interstate Route 71 Job

Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners today received a resolution from the Ohio Department of Highways seeking the county's cooperation in construction of Interstate Route 71 which crosses a small section in Darby Twp.

The resolution asks the Commission to go along with relocating or altering of existing county roads located in the vicinity of the proposed freeway. Certain provisions for maintenance also were requested.

According to the proposal, the resolution would clarify the responsibilities for relocating, altering and maintaining the county roads. The Commission was scheduled to take action on the measure later today.

The resolution made notation that the roads would be built by the state to conform with the Interstate 71 project.

ONE PHASE seeks legislation to relocate Creamer, Carson and Taylor Roads, when vacate portions no longer needed for highway purposes. The roads are in the northwest section of Darby Twp.

Also asked was permission for altering and widening of Circleville - London - Northern Road not being relocated in connection with the highway project, but which would intersect Interstate 71.

Due for additional study by the Commission is the section of the resolution seeking county acceptance of responsibility for maintaining the reconstructed or relocated roads once they are built by the state.

Part Three of the resolution asks the county to accept the transfer of lands purchased for the proposed alteration, relocation and construction.

Specification was made that the state will maintain all bridges over or under state highways, with provisions that the county or township shall surface, maintain and remove snow from such structures.

In other business, the Commission heard factors concerning a case previously filed in Common Pleas Court by Arthur Sark, Route 1, Ashville, concerning flooding of his land. He contends the flooding is caused by erection of a county bridge.

Sark now seeks a proper levy for protection to his land. The Commission was expected to take definite action on the matter later today.

Stocks Push Up Slightly

NEW YORK (AP) — Spotty strength pushed an irregular stock market slightly to the upside in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 224.0, with industrials up .9, rails up .1 and utilities unchanged.

Some of the chemicals, aerospace, issues, and motors helped industrials to show a gain on balance. Drugs tended to back off slightly amid news affecting some of these companies.

The pattern was a narrowly uneven among utilities, rails and airlines. Rubbers and nonferrous metals showed a slightly lower trend as did steels. The steel industry was reported to show no signs of a pickup.

Although new car sales were 29 per cent above the year ago level in early September, they ran at the lowest level of 1962, reflecting the usual slump at the end of the model year.

DiSalle Urges 10-Year Plan For Ohio Research, Growth

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle proposed today a 10-year, $100-million program to establish an Ohio research and development institute and prepare the state for the uncharted future.

The candidate for a second year term as governor said the program would involve all six state-supported institutions of higher learning.

He labeled it "Ohio's keystone for success today and tomorrow."

It was DiSalle's first wholly new program of the 1962 campaign.

He proposes to finance the ambitious project through use of money now earmarked for retirement of World War II bonus bonds. That bond issue will be paid off Dec. 31, 1963, and DiSalle said the money will be available thereafter.

Ever since Ohio voters approved the bonus soon after the close of World War II, the state treasury has paid over $1 million a month to retire the bonus owed DiSalle proposes to use about 80 per cent of this money—$10 million a year—to finance the space-age research and development institute as an "investment in the well-being of our people and society."

The governor said his proposal is possible "because the Democratic-controlled 103rd General Assembly (in 1959) put Ohio on a pay-as-you-go financial basis, halting the trend toward more and more bonded financing and reducing Ohio's bonded debt."

DiSalle's proposal for the project designed to put Ohio in the forefront of research in the complex new world of the so-called exotic industries also would, he said.

Sheriff Probes Two Burglaries

Burglars who entered the Ashville Elementary School late Friday or early Saturday made off with between four and eight dollars, according to a report of the County Sheriff's Department.

The thief or thieves left untouched a shopping bag containing nearly $200, according to school officials. The money was payment for school insurance policies for the students there.

Another illegal entry was investigated by the Sheriff's Department at the American Legion home on Route 23. Burglars there netted only a little over nine dollars according to the report. The entry there occurred between 1:30 a. m. and 2:10 p. m. Sunday.

Both incidents were investigated by Deputy Gene Kerns.

Searchers Fail To Find Missing County Resident

The organized search party that scoured the area near the residence of the missing Henry Schwalbach failed to find any clues concerning the Walnut Twp. resident who disappeared July 8, according to Pickaway County Sheriff Walt Spangler.

About 25 persons, including members of the local unit of the Ohio National Guard, aided the sheriff's department in the investigation.

Schwalbach lived in Walnut Twp. near the junction of the Red Bridge and the Circleville-Winchester Roads. He was last seen near his home shooting birds with a rifle.

months of extensive evaluation of qualifications of 253 volunteers from among military and civilian applicants.

A medical examination and other preliminary tests cut the group of candidates to 31. During July and August, the 31 were given comprehensive medical examinations.

During the week of Aug. 12, the 31 were brought to the spacecraft center here and were given a final evaluation through a final series of examinations, tests and interviews.

Gilruth said there were five basic qualifications for final selection:

Experience as a jet test pilot preferably presently engaged in flying high-performance aircraft.

Experimental flight test status attained through military service, the aircraft industries for NASA or possession of a certificate of graduation from a military test pilot school.

Possession of a degree in physical or biological sciences or engineering.

U.S. citizenship, age less than 35 at the time of selection and height 6 feet or less.

Recommendation from the individual's organization.

Average age of the original seven is 38. John H. Glenn Jr., first American to orbit the earth and eldest of the first seven, is 41.

The Mercury astronauts are still very much on the flying list despite their age, space officials said. They explained the amount of time a man can remain on flying status is an individual matter, depending solely on his physical and mental condition.

Walter Schirra, scheduled to make a six-orbit flight in a Mercury capsule Sept. 28, is 39.

The new astronauts will be prime candidates for the Gemini project to put two men into orbit in a single capsule. Experienced spacemen probably will be paired with the new astronauts to take advantage of things learned in the Mercury program, NASA spokesmen said.

The Apollo project is designed to place two men on the lunar surface. Gemini will give the astronauts practice in making a space rendezvous, required by present Apollo plans.

Nine more astronauts are expected to be named about the time the Apollo flights begin.

County Cooperation Sought For Interstate Route 71 Job

Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners today received a resolution from the Ohio Department of Highways seeking the county's cooperation in construction of Interstate Route 71 which crosses a small section in Darby Twp.

World's Money Experts Parley

80 Countries Study New Dollar Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Financial leaders of 80 countries gathered here today to talk about the recuperating dollar—and the new problems that will arise when the dollar is restored to full health.

The forum for the discussion was the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund, a 17-year-old champion of stable currencies and world trade. This meeting, along with simultaneous sessions of the World Bank and affiliated organizations, will continue through Friday.

In the monetary realm, an increase in the strength of the dollar or any other currency is almost certain to mean that some other currency is weakening. With the dollar showing new strength, Western Europe is increasingly concerned about its own marks, guilders, francs and lire.

Per Jacobsson, managing director of the IMF, predicts the U.S. balance of payments deficit—the cause of dollar weakness in recent

Stock Market Dull, but Advances

By RICHARD H. HOENIG
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced a step last week for the first time in three weeks. All five sessions were characterized by a general lack of public interest.

The improvement was far from overpowering although the popular market averages all showed gains.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .8 at 223.6 with industrials ahead 2.8, rails off 1.6 and utilities up .4.

The Dow Jones industrial average gained 4.98 but the 65-stock average was ahead only .48. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index picked up .51 at 58.89. On Wednesday the Dow Jones utility average closed above the rail average for the first time. It held a slight margin at the end of the week.

Investor indecision was apparent from the fact that in each session the daily trend was not definitely established until the final half hour of trading. Monday it was late buying that cut earlier losses to produce a mixed day. Tuesday there was a late sinking spell.

Almost all of Wednesday's gain was recorded in final trading while Thursday's market turned lower in final trading. Friday's rise wasn't established until the closing minutes.

There was some major business-economic news but in general it failed to influence the market to any important degree. Unrest over the Cuban situation centered on the Russian threat of a nuclear war and President Kennedy's reply that although there was no serious threat at this time we would protect ourselves.

Analysts were hopeful the week's gain meant the start of the widely expected post-Labor Day rally. Many weren't any longer so sure there would be one.

The government reported that before tax profit of corporations hit a record annual rate during the June quarter, that personal income in August was $1 billion above July on a seasonally adjusted basis, that total August cash dividends paid by corporations issuing public reports exceeded a year ago by 6 per cent, and that industrial production in August was unchanged from July on a seasonally adjusted basis.

On the minus side the average weekly pay of factory workers and seasonally adjusted factory work week were both down in mid-August.

Volume failed to exceed 3.1 million on any day, compared with eight month daily average of almost 3.8 million. For the week volume totaled 14,634,011 shares compared with 12,095,568 in the four sessions last week.

Today is Monday, Sept. 17, the 260th day of 1962. There are 105 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1949, the largest passenger steamer on the Great Lakes—the Noronic—was destroyed by fire at a Toronto pier. The disaster took more than 130 lives and injured 170.

On this date: In 1787, the Constitution of the United States was adopted.

In 1856, the Whig national convention met in Baltimore — marking the last appearance of the Whig Party in U.S. politics.

In 1947, a typhoon in Japan left 2,000 dead and more than 2,000 missing while a hurricane struck the Florida east coast and caused widespread damage.

In 1948, the United Nations mediator for Palestine, Count Folke Bernadotte, was assassinated in Jerusalem.

Today's birthdays: Former tennis champion Maureen Connolly is 28. Poet William Carlos Williams is 79.

Thought for today: Not a place upon earth might be so happy as America. Her situation is remote from all the wrangling world, and she has and nothing to do but to trade with them—Thomas Paine.

World's Money Experts Parley

80 Countries Study New Dollar Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Financial leaders of 80 countries gathered here today to talk about the recuperating dollar—and the new problems that will arise when the dollar is restored to full health.

The forum for the discussion was the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund, a 17-year-old champion of stable currencies and world trade. This meeting, along with simultaneous sessions of the World Bank and affiliated organizations, will continue through Friday.

In the monetary realm, an increase in the strength of the dollar or any other currency is almost certain to mean that some other currency is weakening. With the dollar showing new strength, Western Europe is increasingly concerned about its own marks, guilders, francs and lire.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced a step last week for the first time in three weeks. All five sessions were characterized by a general lack of public interest.

The improvement was far from overpowering although the popular market averages all showed gains.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 8 at 223.6 with industrials ahead 2.8, rails off 1.6 and utilities up 4.

The Dow Jones industrial average gained 4.98 but the 65-stock average was ahead only .48. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index picked up .51 at 58.89. On Wednesday the Dow Jones utility average closed above the rail average for the first time. It held a slight margin at the end of the week.

Investor indecision was apparent from the fact that in each session the daily trend was not definitely established until the final half hour of trading. Monday it was late buying that cut earlier losses to produce a mixed day. Tuesday there was a late sinking spell.

Almost all of Wednesday's gain was recorded in final trading while Thursday's market turned lower in final trading. Friday's rise wasn't established until the closing minutes.

There was some major business-economic news but in general it failed to influence the market to any important degree. Unrest over the Cuban situation centered on the Russian threat of a nuclear war and President Kennedy's reply that although there was no serious threat at this time we would protect ourselves.

Analysts were hopeful the week's gain meant the start of the widely expected post-Labor Day rally. Many weren't any longer so sure there would be one.

The government reported that before tax profit of corporations hit a record annual rate during the June quarter, that personal income in August was $1 billion above July on a seasonally adjusted basis, that total August cash dividends paid by corporations issuing public reports exceeded a year ago by 6 per cent, and that industrial production in August was unchanged from July on a seasonally adjusted basis.

On the minus side the average weekly pay of factory workers and seasonally adjusted factory work week were both down in mid-August.

Volume failed to exceed 3.1 million on any day, compared with eight month daily average of almost 3.8 million. For the week volume totaled 14,634,011 shares compared with 12,095,568 in the four sessions last week.

BUSY WORKERS — Members of the Church of the Brethren district youth fellowship formed a "work camp" Saturday to paint the Circleville Church of the Brethren. The youngsters were from the church here and those in Sydney, Greenville, Dayton, Springfield, Gettysburg and West Milton. The members of the party slept in the church. They donated their time and paid their own expenses. The paint was donated by the district board of the church and Ralph Boyer provided the group the scaffolding. (Staff Photo)

Rest in Peace

A citizen in his late 40s or more may recall the gory gangsterism of the prohibition era with the same gently wistful nostalgia Granny used to show when she'd tell about a family christening or a particularly juicy strawberry festival.

The same person might have some of his fondest illusions shattered when he reads that some of the bad men of the 1920s lived well beyond middle age before their hearts quietly gave out. They weren't all liquidated by machine gun fire on Chicago streets.

This untimely form of departure occurred twice in Chicago within days. Edward J. "Spike" O'Donnell, ex-beer king of the South Side, died in bed at the age of 72. And William "Big Bill" Johnson, 67, who reigned as the unchallenged chief of Chicago's gamblers in the 1920s and 1930s also passed away quietly.

O'Donnell never gave away secrets about the dozens of deaths attributed to his wars with such characters as Joe Salt-ice, Al Capone and Johnny Torrio for the city - wide control of beer distribution.

Three times he survived assassination wounds, but died in his sleep in his home on what was described as "one of the nicest residential streets on the South Side."

So, too, with Johnson. At the height of his career, he took over a closed bank and opened it as his private gambling bank. An associate recalled: "The take from each of his gambling casinos, spaced around the fringes of the Loop, would be taken by armored cars with machine gun-toting protectors to the bank for distribution." Johnson died at his showplace livestock farm near Chicago.

In life, these men flourished in the days of Chicago's widely-quoted mayor, William Hale "Big Bill" Thompson, whose main claim to fame was his pugnacious desire to "punch King George in the Nose." But all this was in that between-the-wars era, when a man named C. Y. Harrison published an anti-war book titled "Generals Die in Bed." He wrote it before so many gangsters escaped the bullets of the tommy-guns to die there, too.

New York City has 30,000 dope addicts, probably the largest number of any metropolis in the Western world. It takes them up to $75 a day, each to get their illegal kicks.

The National Dairy Institute estimates it takes between 340 and 360 squirts to make a gallon of milk.

New highways wear tires out up to three times faster than do worn roads which have become coated with a smooth layer of dirt, oil, tar and rubber.

Americans give each other an average of 50 presents a year.

The high rate of juvenile delinquency in large - income families is blamed by psychologist William T. Bourke on the fact fathers are too dedicated to their jobs. "The work addict's child suffers," he says, "because his father has no time for him."

Diplomacy Must Have Goal

President Kennedy is faced by the solemn fact that Khrushchev has established two military fronts against the United States and that we have to battle on both fronts, as we did in World War II.

The two fronts are Berlin and Cuba. East Berlin is a Russian province as much as the Ukraine or Crimea; Cuba is fast becoming a Russian province. It would appear the Khrushchev's strategy has reverted to Stalinist tactics; that is, to keep the United States hopping and jumping.

The poet, Robert Frost, who, in his old age, seems to have become recognized as the President's Poet Laureate, recently visited Nikita Khrushchev and proposed horse-trading as a solution to current Russo-American problems.

Diplomacy must have a specific goal. Such monumental personalities as Talleyrand, Disraeli or Bismarck always knew their targets and dealt accordingly. The United States has, in the past, known some brilliant minds in this field - Benjamin Franklin, John Quincy Adams, John Hay, Elihu

Root, Charles Evans Hughes - to mention a few names. But each generation must deal with the talent it possesses.

The Cuban policy has been an error throughout the Eisenhower and Kennedy Administrations. The fault apparently rests with the Fourth Floor of the State Department, the CIA and the "New York Times," which, in a measure, exercises a veto power over the younger men in the State Department who fear it. The policy originally stems from a theory developed during the Roosevelt regime that there are good and bad dictators. Stalin was a good dictator; Franco was a bad one. The yardstick was not friendship for the United States but the direction of the dictator toward socialism which has become equaled in the minds of these policy-makers with democracy. Thus Trujillo was evil and Castro good. Yet Trujillo did the United States no harm but Castro is our enemy.

The Kennedy Administration inherited from the Eisenhower Administration the policy, the personnel to implement it and the consequences. The Eisenhower Administration inherited much from the Roosevelt Administration. Thus, there has been a continuity of policy with many side effects.

This second front is particularly offensive to the United States because it is a violation of the Monroe Doctrine which is fundamental in American history. Although the Monroe Doctrine was abrogated by the United States along with the Platt Amendments as they affect Cuba, the sentiment of the American people is favorable to their reinstatement. The President can do that by a simple declaration.

But that does not end the story. He has to calculate what the enemy will do. Will he retaliate on our other front? Will he do nothing or will he cause a diversion by an upsurge throughout Asia by his discontented ally, Red China? A President has to calculate all the factors. It is impossible to decide for sure what an opponent will do. Were that possible, there would never be any wars. For instance, we have just established a Polar submarine base at Guam; that means that we can handle Red China from the Pacific. We may fill Berlin with American troops and there is no question but that we have bombing bases that can strike at Russian cities immediately.

We have to be sure how we move because the next major move we make will probably be climactic. There is no use kidding ourselves; now, it is war or a negotiated peace.

What stands in the way of a negotiated peace? Perhaps one may say that it is public opinion in the United States and pride in Soviet Russia. The road to peace is paved with political obstacles for both sides. Red China wants war, as the only way out of economic failure resulting in starvation. The history of China is replete with revolutions and dynastic changes as a result of starvation. If one is to die of hunger, he might just as well fight for some reason - he might die for some purpose.

Mao needs a diversion. A war between the United States and Soviet Russia would be an excellent diversion. Khrushchev undoubtedly realizes the peril of actual war but he also recognizes the game that Mao is playing inside the Communist coalition.

Thus, Khrushchev did not answer Robert Frost's poetic appeal for horse-trading. A better term is horse-shedding which is what the lawyers did in the good, old days.

Allen nodded and said, "That's exactly what I would have done under similar circumstances." "The heck it is," hooted the knowing Mrs. Allen. "You'd have put the TEAM off at Baltimore!"

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Your baby is missing one sex gland! Is he normal?

Not really! The missing gland is most likely misplaced. Many boys start life with this trouble.

All sex glands develop inside the abdomen. Here, heat destroys most sperm cell production without affecting hormone output.

Before birth, male glands tunnel through a muscular canal along the groin and drop into their outside pouch. A heavy cord trails behind like a thick, overgrown tail.

Cord muscle contractions sometimes keep pulling the gland up out of reach. But a relaxing warm bath or hot water bottle helps it drop back down.

The adolescent flood of male hormones lengthens the cord permanently. So do special hormone injections - if you can't wait for adolescence.

A missing sex gland may be trapped inside the abdomen, caught in the narrow muscular canal, pulled sideways between layers of muscle or just at the end of that muscular canal.

With relaxing heat, a doctor's trained finger tips may be able to guide the gland part way into its pocket. Then, hormone injections should help.

Pressure often forces abdominal organs and lining through that wide-open tunnel along the groin - a hernia.

A skilled surgeon can repair this hernia and anchor the sex gland in its normal position. The operation can often wait till your son is nine or ten.

When both glands are missing, only an operation can tell whether they're absent or simply hidden inside the abdomen.

Although the cord is occasionally too short to reach all the way down, most operations succeed. Of course, no one can guarantee normal sperm cell production in any male gland.

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

Ancient Trolleys of Mexico Gaining New Life in U.S.A.

Being for a long ride is this Veracruz, Mexico, trolley car as it is loaded onto a flatcar prior for shipment to Cleveland in the U.S.A.

By JIM BUDD
Central Press Association
Correspondent

MEXICO CITY — An American from Cleveland, Ohio, has sparked a treasure hunt in Mexico's Port of Veracruz.

Gerald Brookins turned up in the Gulf Coast City recently to buy a pair of ancient trolley cars. He paid over $800 for each, twice what they cost the Veracruz transport system back in 1908.

Now, like a farmer who has sold a rusty model T for more than it cost new, Veracruzanos are rummaging through municipal attics hoping to find more antiques among what they once considered junk.

Rattletrap trash trucks, rickety buses and rundown fire engines are being viewed with a kinder eye these days.

The trolleys Brookins bought are open sided, the type that clattered along the streets of U. S. cities during the summer months a generation ago.

"These were the only ones I knew about still in existence," Brookins says. "They were the last two open cars running in Veracruz. I bought them right off the street."

The working days of the two trolleys are far from over. Brookins is having them shipped by flatcar to Cleveland, where they will provide transportation between a shopping center and trailer park he operates.

"We plan to have a sort of living museum of old transportation," he says. "We're concentrating on old trolleys and interurban cars. With these rapidly disappearing from the American scene, ours probably soon will be the only line running in the United States."

As well as the two trolleys from Veracruz, Brookins will operate cars from the old Chicago, Aurora and Elgin Line, and from the Cleveland and Shaker Heights municipal systems. All will bear their original markings.

"It will be fine publicity for Veracruz," says one proud official of that city.

While most Veracruzanos are delighted with the windfall and look forward to luring more antique hunters to the port, not everyone is happy.

"It is to our civic shame that it had to be a foreigner who pointed out that things we thought were junk are really valuable antiques," commented the newspaper El Dictamen.

"Now that we have lost two of our most precious relics, it is high time we in Veracruz established a Society for the Protection of Antiques!"

President Kennedy is faced by the solemn fact that Khrushchev has established two military fronts against the United States and that we have to battle on both fronts, as we did in World War II.

The two fronts are Berlin and Cuba. East Berlin is a Russian province as much as the Ukraine or Crimea; Cuba is fast becoming a Russian province. It would appear the Khrushchev's strategy has reverted to Stalinist tactics; that is, to keep the United States hopping and jumping.

The poet, Robert Frost, who, in his old age, seems to have become recognized as the President's Poet Laureate, recently visited Nikita Khrushchev and proposed horse-trading as a solution to current Russo-American problems.

Diplomacy must have a specific goal. Such monumental personalities as Talleyrand, Disraeli or Bismarck always knew their targets and dealt accordingly. The United States has, in the past, known some brilliant minds in this field — Benjamin Franklin, John Quincy Adams, John Hay, Elihu

Root, Charles Evans Hughes — to mention a few names. But each generation must deal with the talent it possesses.

The Cuban policy has been an error throughout the Eisenhower and Kennedy Administrations. The fault apparently rests with the Fourth Floor of the State Department, the CIA and the "New York Times," which, in a measure, exercises a veto power over the younger men in the State Department who fear it. The policy originally stems from a theory developed during the Roosevelt regime that there are good and bad dictators. Stalin was a good dictator; Franco was a bad one. The yardstick was not friendship for the United States but the direction of the dictator toward socialism which has become equaled in the minds of these policy-makers with democracy. Thus Trujillo was evil and Castro good. Yet Trujillo did the United States no harm but Castro is our enemy.

The Kennedy Administration inherited from the Eisenhower Administration the policy, the personnel to implement it and the consequences. The Eisenhower Administration inherited much from the Roosevelt Administration. Thus, there has been a continuity of policy with many side effects.

This second front is particularly offensive to the United States because it is a violation of the Monroe Doctrine which is fundamental in American history. Although the Monroe Doctrine was abrogated by the United States along with the Platt Amendments as they affect Cuba, the sentiment of the American people is favorable to their reinstatement. The President can do that by a simple declaration.

But that does not end the story. He has to calculate what the enemy will do. Will he retaliate on our other front? Will he retaliate from Cuba? Will he do nothing or will he cause a diversion by an upsurge throughout Asia by a discontented ally, Red China? A President has to calculate all the factors. It is impossible to decide for sure what an opponent will do. Were that possible, there would never be any wars. For instance, we have just established a Polar submarine base at Guam; that means that we can handle Red China from the Pacific. We may fill Berlin with American troops and there is no question but that we have bombing bases that can strike at Russian cities immediately.

We have to be sure how we move because the next major move we make will probably be climactic. There is no use kidding ourselves; now, it is war or a negotiated peace.

What stands in the way of a negotiated peace? Perhaps one may say that it is public opinion in the United States and pride in Soviet Russia. The road to peace is paved with political obstacles for both sides. Red China wants war, as the only way out of economic failure resulting in starvation. The history of China is replete with revolutions and dynastic changes as a result of starvation. If one is to die of hunger, he might just as well fight for some reason — he might die for some purpose.

Mao needs a diversion. A war between the United States and Soviet Russia would be an excellent diversion. Khrushchev undoubtedly realizes the peril of actual war but he also recognizes the game that Mao is playing inside the Communist coalition.

Thus, Khrushchev did not answer Robert Frost's poetic appeal for horse-trading. A better term is horse-shedding which is what the lawyers did in the good, old days.

MRS. Allen nodded and said, "That's exactly what I would have done under similar circumstances." "The heck it is," hooted the knowing Mrs. Allen. "You'd have put the TEAM off at Baltimore!"

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Your baby is missing one sex gland! Is he normal?

Not really! The missing gland is most likely misplaced. Many boys start life with this trouble.

All sex glands develop inside the abdomen. Here, heat destroys most sperm cell production without affecting hormone output.

Before birth, male glands tunnel through a muscular canal along the groin and drop into their outside pouch. A heavy cord trails behind like a thick, overgrown tail.

Cord muscle contractions sometimes keep pulling the gland up out of reach. But a relaxing warm bath or hot water bottle helps it drop back down.

The adolescent flood of male hormones lengthens the cord permanently. So do special hormone injections — if you can't wait for adolescence.

A missing sex gland may be trapped inside the abdomen, caught in the narrow muscular canal, pulled sideways between layers of muscle or just at the end of that muscular canal.

With relaxing heat, a doctor's trained finger tips may be able to guide the gland part way into its pocket. Then, hormone injections should help.

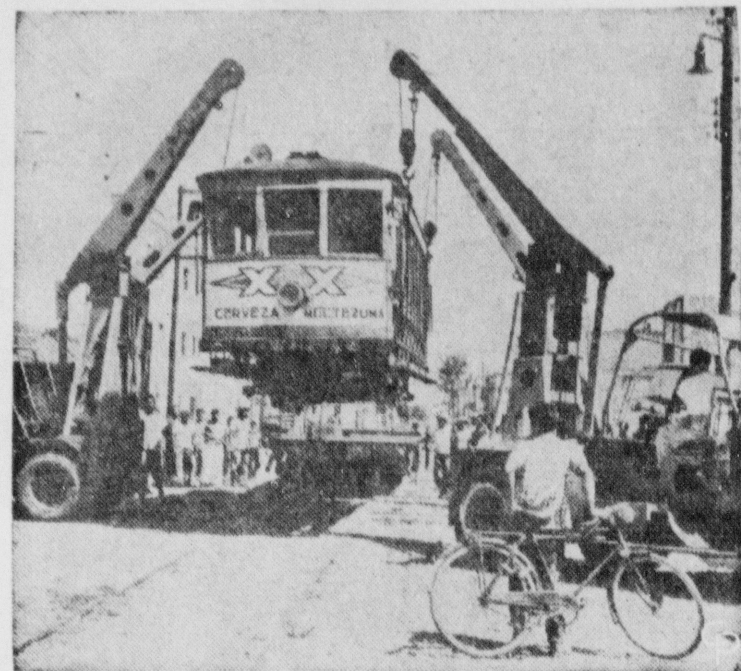

Pressure often forces abdominal organs and lining through that wide-open tunnel along the groin—a hernia.

A skilled surgeon can repair this hernia and anchor the sex gland in its normal position. The operation can often wait till your son is nine or ten.

When both glands are missing, only an operation can tell whether they're absent or simply hidden inside the abdomen.

Although the cord is occasionally too short to reach all the way

Ancient Trolleys of Mexico Gaining New Life in U.S.A.

Being for a long ride is this Veracruz, Mexico, trolley car as it is loaded onto a flatcar prior to shipment to Cleveland in the U.S.A.

By JIM BUDD
Central Press Association
Correspondent

MEXICO CITY — An American from Cleveland, Ohio, has sparked a treasure hunt in Mexico's Port of Veracruz.

Gerald Brookins turned up in the Gulf Coast City recently to buy a pair of ancient trolley cars. He paid over $800 for each, twice what they cost the Veracruz transport system back in 1908.

Now, like a farmer who has sold a rusty model T for more than it cost new, Veracruzanos are rummaging through municipal attics hoping to find more antiques among what they once considered junk.

Rattletrap trash trucks, rickety buses and rundown fire engines are being viewed with a kinder eye these days.

The trolleys Brookins bought are open sided, the type that clattered along the streets of U. S. cities during the summer months a generation ago.

"These were the only ones I knew about still in existence," Brookins says. "They were the last two open cars running in Veracruz. I bought them right off the street."

The working days of the two trolleys are far from over. Brookins is having them shipped by flatcar to Cleveland, where they will provide transportation between a shopping center and trailer park he operates.

"We plan to have a sort of living museum of old transportation," he says. "We're concentrating on old trolleys and interurban cars. With these rapidly disappearing from the American scene, ours probably soon will be the only line running in the United States."

As well as the two trolleys from Veracruz, Brookins will operate cars from the old Chicago, Aurora and Elgin Line, and from the Cleveland and Shaker Heights

municipal systems. All will bear their original markings.

"It will be fine publicity for Veracruz," says one proud official of that city.

While most Veracruzanos are delighted with the windfall and look forward to luring more antique hunters to the port, not everyone is happy.

"It is to our civic shame that it had to be a foreigner who pointed out that things we thought were junk are really valuable antiques," commented the newspaper El Dic-tamen.

"Now that we have lost two of our most precious relics, it is high time we in Veracruz established a Society for the Protection of Antiques!"

Steel Industry Studies New Technique

CLEVELAND (AP) — A new production method described as offering certain economies and continuous casting will be in use in the nation's steel mills within three years, Steel Magazine predicted today.

In the continuous casting method operating costs will be lowered because of the elimination of some steel-making steps, the publication said. Quality has been improved and yields have reached 98 per cent, 8 to 12 per cent above the conventional operation.

More than 36 continuous casting machines abroad are now turning out small billets and slabs, and around 30 more are either on order or under construction, the weekly journal of metalworking explained.

Steel's recent check of major U.S. steel producers revealed several are now investigating the new process.

Because of slow demand, the magazine noted, only the most productive furnaces are now in use in this country.

A survey by the magazine showed that 33 per cent of the more than 855 open hearth furnaces in this country have been converted to the oxygen technique. Oxygen equipped furnaces account for 50 per cent of the nation's open hearth steel now being made.

Steel said automakers are holding the key to an October upturn for the steel industry and the upturn will be modest until General Motors Corp. resumes buying.

Ingot output this week will be slightly higher than the 1.67 million tons that Steel estimated the industry poured last week.

The magazine's scrap price composite on No. 1 heavy melting grade held at $27 a gross ton last week.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Last spring a roaring fire destroyed a quarter of a block of business establishments in downtown Des Moines.

U.S. Business Is Good, but Not Good Enough

NEW YORK (AP) — Good, but not good enough. That is the reaction to the newest reports in the course of U.S. business.

New records were established by corporation profits and personal income. While this was encouraging, the rate of gain was not up to expectations.

Retail sales dipped slightly in August from the record level of July but stayed ahead of August 1961.

Profits of corporations attained an annual rate of $50.9 billion in the April-June quarter, a period in which the stock market collapse occurred. In the preceding quarter the rate was $50.1 billion.

The total income of all Americans climbed by $900 million to an annual rate of $442.8 billion in August. However, there was a decline in manufacturing payrolls of $400 million to $94.1 billion.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges called the figures "not entirely satisfactory, but I still think, good."

He said business has bounced back a little from what it looked like two or three months ago, and added: "I would rather say that over the short term—I believe the economists call that about six months—I think business is going to stay good; not as much as we would like, but still good."

Retail sales slipped in August to $19.6 billion from July's peak of $19.7 billion, a drop of only 0.5 per cent. They were 8 per cent above a year earlier.

The stock market advanced for the first time in three weeks, although public interest generally was lacking.

Stock shares sold during the week totaled 14,634,055, compared with 12,910,568 a week ago and 14,897,300 the comparable week of last year. Bond sales amounted $19,940,200 par value, up from the $16,380,000 the previous week but below the $28,012,000 of the comparable 1961 week.

The Dow Jones industrial average gained 4.98 during the week. On Wednesday, for the first time, the Dow Jones utility average closed above the rail average.

A survey by the national Retail Merchants Association indicated that retailers look for a sales increase in the second half of this year.

The Electronics Industries Association estimated that manufacturers' sales of electronic devices and equipment will increase this year to a record $13.1 billion from about $12 billion last year. It attributed most of the growth to equipment for the defense and space programs.

Production of passenger cars surged to an estimated 120,000 during the week as assembly of 1963 models picked up speed. The output the previous week was 68,221.

Steel output dipped during the week, which was shortened by the Labor Day holiday. Production of 1,641,000 tons was 1.8 per cent below the previous week.

In August, steel production totaled 7.1 million tons, up from 6,174,187 in July and down from 8,660,527 in August 1961. In the first seven months of this year, shipment of finished steel products from mills amounted to 43,986,282 tons, a gain of 21 per cent over the similar 1961 period.

T. F. Patton, president of Republic Steel Corp., pleaded with the Senate Judiciary Committee that it not insist that steel companies submit confidential information on production costs. As spokesman for Republic, Bethlehem Steel, National Steel and Armco Steel, he said the data, if made public, would help the industry's domestic and foreign competitors.

The four companies had refused to answer subpoenas issued by the Judiciary Committee's antitrust subcommittee. Eight other steelmakers submitted the information. Subcommittee Chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., sought to have the full committee cite the four companies for contempt.

The subcommittee's investigation of steel industry competition is an outgrowth of the unsuccessful attempt to raise steel prices last spring.

A federal grand jury in Hartford, Conn., indicted 11 big fabricators of copper and brass products on charges of conspiring to fix prices of brass mill tube and pipe over a period of five or six years. Seven company officials also were indicted.

Harsha Reports

SBA Branch Sought for Sixth District

Congressman William H. Harsha, 6th District of Ohio, has requested the Small Business Administration to establish a branch office in Southern Ohio to serve the residents of the 6th District.

Referring to SBA's recent decision to have a representative in Columbus one day a week, Congressman Harsha said this would provide a valuable service to the people, particularly of Central Ohio, but that the residents of Southern Ohio would still find it difficult to make the trip to Columbus on a particular day.

Congressman Harsha pointed out that there are many services provided by the Small Business Administration about which the small businessman knows little or nothing. "If an office were located closer to the District, travel would not be such a problem and more people could avail themselves of the services the Small Business Administration has to offer," he said.

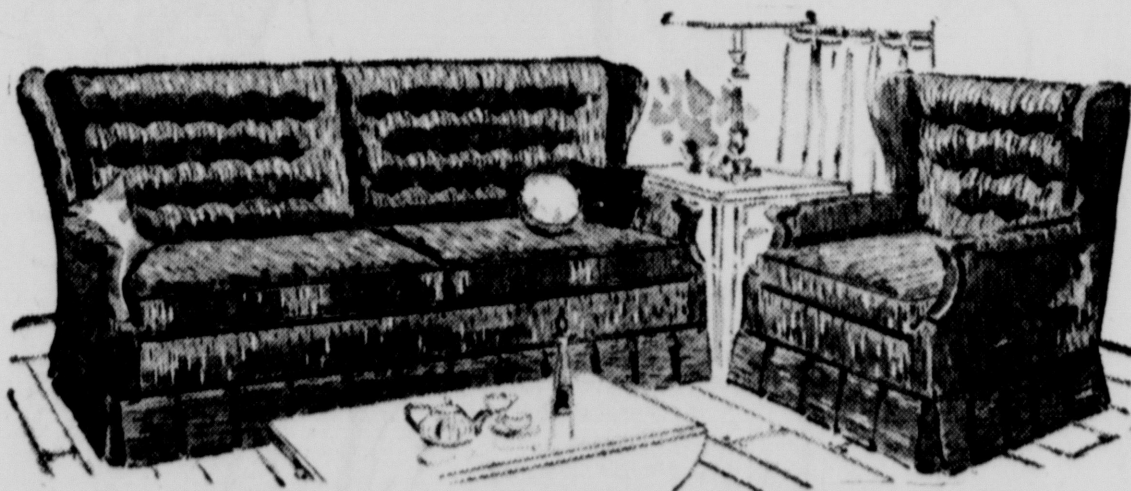

Harsha made a similar request of the Small Business Administration last November, but was advised that the backlog of cases and limited personnel did not permit the establishment of a part-time office.

The 6th District is now served by the SBA Regional Office at Cleveland.

Referring to SBA's recent decision to have a representative in Columbus one day a week, Congressman Harsha said this would provide a valuable service to the people, particularly of Central Ohio, but that the residents of Southern Ohio would still find it difficult to make the trip to Columbus on a particular day.

Congressman Harsha pointed out that there are many services provided by the Small Business Administration about which the small businessman knows little or nothing. "If an office were located closer to the District, travel would not be such a problem and more people could avail themselves of the services the Small Business Administration has to offer," he said.

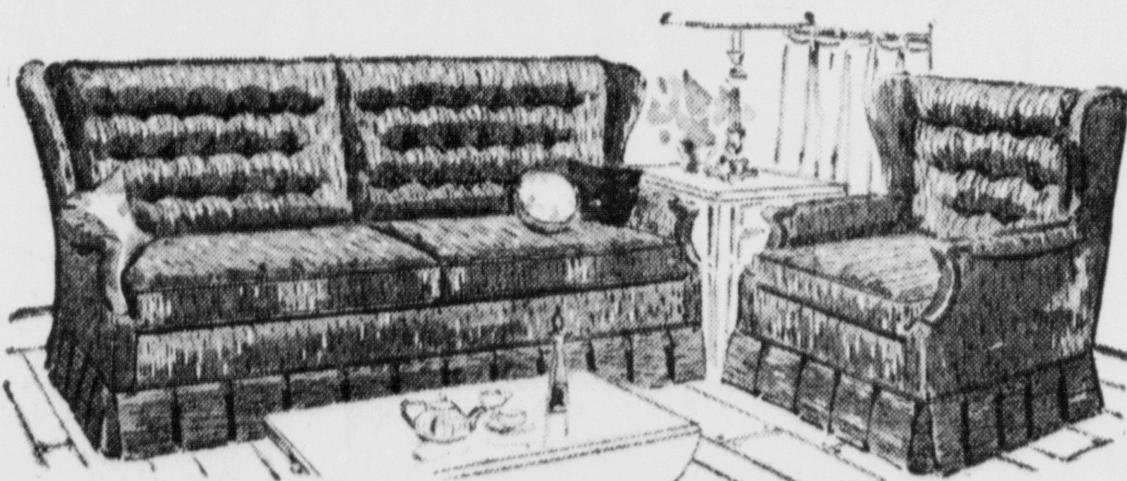

Harsha made a similar request of the Small Business Administration last November, but was advised that the backlog of cases and limited personnel did not permit the establishment of a part-time office.

The 6th District is now served by the SBA Regional Office at Cleveland.

Dear Abby: He's Fast Worker!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a traveling salesman and makes a very good living selling on the road. His weakness is young girls, and in 18 years of marriage this is his third jam. A girl in Iowa claims he got her in trouble. He says he isn't sure he is responsible as he saw her only once. We have five children and my husband is 47. If this is made public it could cost him his job. How do we get out of this mess without having it in all the papers?

she enclose a recent photograph of herself. The position, it stated paid very well and would be a pleasure for the right woman. How can I check up on this man if he decides to hire me?

AVAILABLE

DEAR ABBY: Ask the gentleman to furnish character references on himself. If he is honorable, he won't object. If he is not, it's best that you find out now. If the job is really "a pleasure," a woman has the right to know with whom she may have that pleasure.

DEAR JERSEY: You need a lawyer! And your husband may have another mouth to feed, so he had better start making more calls and fewer stops.

DEAR ABBY: My husband owns a small bar and makes a nice living from it, but he has to work from 12 noon until 2 in the morning six days a week. Maybe I shouldn't complain because he doesn't gamble, drink or chase women, but we have four kids who don't even know they've got a father. I would like to have my husband home for supper at least two nights a week. We tried getting a relief bartender, but he drank more than he sold so we had to let him go. Is my request unreasonable?

ALONE WITH THE KIDS
DEAR ABBY: In my opinion, your request is not unreasonable. Your husband should take off two nights a week to have supper with his family. And get a bartender with ulcers to relieve him.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY care of this paper.

He's Fast Worker!

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a traveling salesman and makes a very good living selling on the road. His weakness is young girls, and in 18 years of marriage this is his third jam. A girl in Iowa claims he got her in trouble. He says he isn't sure he is responsible as he saw her only once. We have five children and my husband is 47. If this is made public it could cost him his job. How do we get out of this mess without having it in all the papers?

JERSEY

DEAR JERSEY: You need a lawyer! And your husband may have another mouth to feed, so he had better start making more calls and fewer stops.

DEAR ABBY: I answered an ad in the newspaper and am now having second thoughts about it. A retired gentleman, 62 and a semi-invalid, advertised for an unmarried woman between 30 and 45 who could drive a car and travel with him. It further stated that she must have a pleasant personality and dress well. He requested that she enclose a recent photograph of herself. The position, it stated paid very well and would be a pleasure for the right woman. How can I check up on this man if he decides to hire me?

AVAILABLE

DEAR AVAILABLE: Ask the gentleman to furnish character references on himself. If he is honorable, he won't object. If he is not, it's best that you find out now, if the job is really "a pleasure," a woman has the right to know with whom she may have that pleasure.

DEAR ABBY: My husband owns a small bar and makes a nice living from it, but he has to work from 12 noon until 2 in the morning six days a week. Maybe I shouldn't complain because he doesn't gamble, drink or chase women, but we have four kids who don't even know they've got a father. I would like to have my husband home for supper at least two nights a week. We tried getting a relief bartender, but he drank more than he sold so we had to let him go. Is my request unreasonable?

ALONE WITH THE KIDS
DEAR ALONE: In my opinion, your request is not unreasonable. Your husband should take off two nights a week to have supper with his family. And get a bartender with ulcers to relieve him.

Tiger Halfback Garold Dade Is Named Player of Week

Garold Dade

Garold Dade was selected by the Tiger watching staff as the player of the week in Friday's 16-8 verdict over Athens.

Dade was selected by the mentors after they had thoroughly reviewed the films of the Athens game. He was given a 2.39 rating.

Carl Benhase, head Tiger coach, said the outstanding running of the Circleville senior halfback was the keynote of his play Friday. He gained 144 yards in 17 carries for an 8.5 average.

His longest run was a 26-yard jaunt around left end from the Circleville 38 yard line to the Athens 36. He had a 25-yard touchdown run in the early minutes of the game.

THE MOVIES showed that Dade made at least nine tackles, unassisted, according to Benhase.

Dave Hannahs, last week's top player, was a close second to Dade with a 2.35 score.

Freddie Moore, Tiger halfback and cornerman, received the highest defensive grade. His game average was 2.34. Duke Fyffe was given a 2.21 grade. Ray (The Toe) Taylor a 2.10, Tom Bivens a 2.07, Tim Mogan a 2.04 and Tom Copland a 2.00.

Mogan's grade was for offense only.

Benhase said the staff has been exceptionally tough in grading the players this season and a grade of 2.00 or better indicates the boys have played a good game.

He went on to say that the films showed the team needed work on specific assignments and on their technique. He said tackling in Friday's win was especially inconsistent.

THE TIGER mentor said the team as a whole lacked the punch displayed the previous Friday at Olentangy.

However, he praised the Tigers for their aggressive play against the fired up Bulldogs.

According to game films the Bulldogs received two good breaks on missed calls by the officials. They were forward laterals on the quarterback option play.

One of them should have been called a forward pass with ineligible receivers downfield, Benhase said. The play picked up about 25 yards for the visitors.

Records Fall In United Grid Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The record book took a beating this weekend during the second round play in the year-old United Football League.

In action Saturday, Columbus spotted Louisville 14 points and then came back to whip the Raiders 35-14, and Indianapolis remained at the top of the western division standings by downing Cleveland 27-17. Sunday, Wheeling crushed winless Chicago 41-3 and defending champion Grand Rapids, held scoreless last week, trounced Toledo 44-18.

The latter game produced the most in the way of records.

Blazer end Bob Jewett equalled one mark, catching eight G. and Rapids passes, and set another, gaining 166 yards. The victor's kicking specialist, Emil Caprara set another mark, booting six straight extra points. The final record came when the Blazer defense held Toledo to minus six yards rushing.

In Columbus, Louisville halfback Jim Thomas took a pitchout and rambled 93 yards for the first touchdown of that game and set a distance mark in the process. Columbus quarterback Larry Cline, a former O'terbein star, equalled another record by completing 20 passes.

Conley Plays Dual Role in Beating Yanks

Pitching, Batting Help Bosox to 4-3 Victory Over League Leaders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gene Conley is a big, baby-faced guy who is the only major two-sport professional now performing.

He is the property of the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association. This is a recent change. And he is no longer "owned" by the New York Yankees, also a recent change.

The Yanks had beaten the 6-foot-8 Boston right-hander seven times in as many tries over the last two seasons when they took the field in Boston Sunday.

Conley promptly pitched and batted the Red Sox to a 4-3 triumph over the defending world champions, lopping a full game off the Yanks still comfortable American League lead.

Minnesota closed to within three games on the strength of a 4-3 decision over Cleveland, with ace right-hander Camilo Pascual the key figure. Pascual picked up his 19th triumph and drove in the winning run with his third hit of the game.

New York and Minnesota each have 10 games left to play.

The third-place Los Angeles Angels were all but eliminated from the race by Detroit. The Tigers came up with a 4-2 verdict, dropping the Angels 3½ games back of Minnesota, 6½ behind the Yankees.

Kansas City bombed Baltimore 12-5 and Chicago beat Washington 7-4 in the others.

In the National League, the leading Los Angeles Dodgers lost to Chicago 5-0 but remained four games ahead of second-place San Francisco, which fell before Pittsburgh 6-4 in 10 innings. The New York Mets beat the third-place Cincinnati Reds 8-2; Philadelphia defeated St. Louis 3-1 and Milwaukee edged Houston 5-4.

Conley, who combines his baseball career with a winter job in professional basketball, was acquired by the New York NBA team in a trade last week.

A Conley single, leading off the eighth, led to the decisive run. He moved up on a sacrifice and scored on Lu Clinton's single.

Whitey Ford (16-8) was charged with the loss.

Pascual struck out 12, lifting his league-leading total to 191, while keeping the Twins in the race with their fourth straight victory. He drove in the run that broke a 3-3 tie with a single in the eighth. Harmon Killebrew's 40th home run with the bases empty in the seventh, pulled the Twins into the tie.

Los Angeles' loss to Detroit was their fifth straight. Pitcher Phil Regan's decisive two-run double in a three-run fifth inning gave the Tigers a 4-0 lead and pinned the loss on Ken McBride (11-5).

Kansas City jammed in six runs in the fifth inning and went on to an easy triumph over Baltimore, despite a home run and three other hits by the Orioles' Brooks Robinson.

Chicago rallied for four runs in the sixth in beating Washington.

No Timidity Seen in Ohio College Brand of Football

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's nothing timid about football tactics taught at Ohio's colleges this season.

Even though more Ohio teams lost (six) than won (four) during a weekend of opening games, there were no shutouts. And two of those six losing efforts were lost to other Ohio college teams.

In one of those intra-state games, Miami of Ohio unveiled a cool, confident sophomore quarterback named Ernie Kellermann.

He passed for two touchdowns and scored a third himself as the Redskins outmaneuvered Xavier 23-14 at Cincinnati Saturday night.

Xavier quarterback Walt Brynarski had a pretty fair evening in himself in a losing cause, tossing two touchdown passes.

Dayton, playing on its home field Saturday night, pushed over a first quarter score but then ran into a passing-running signal-caller named Tom Flynn who directed visiting Kent State to a 22-7 win. Flynn threw for two TDs and ran to set up a third.

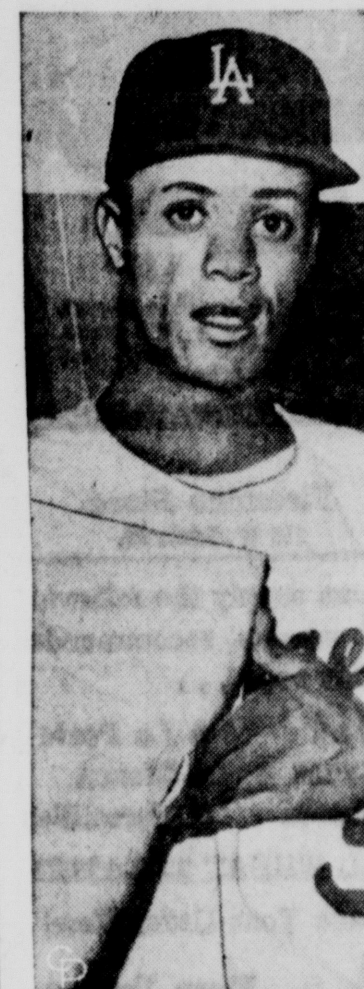

In a wild one at Huntington, W. Va., Findlay scored 22 points in the first half but couldn't handle the passing attack of Marshall's quarterback, Bobby Hamlin, and lost 40-22.

All of those 22 points, by the way, were scored by Findlay's Bill Barry, billed as the fastest halfback in the nation.

Teams from the Dakotas were bad news for Ohio Saturday night. Toledo came back strong with two touchdowns in the final quarter but had lost too much on pass interceptions and fell to South Dakota State 25-14 at Toledo.

Out in Grand Forks, N.D., the University of North Dakota polished off Youngstown 20-7.

Ohio squads had better luck with Michigan opponents. Bluffton did a convincing job on Grand Rapids 29-13, while Ohio Northern, also playing at home, massacred Alma 32-6. On the other hand, Hope of Michigan lost the statistics but won the game with Ashland up in Holland, Mich., 21-14.

FAST NEARING RECORD — Maury Wills, fleet-footed Los Angeles Dodger, looking thoughtful as he poses holding a base bag, has now stolen 86 bases and may soon set a new major league season record.

12 to 20 Pacers Slated for 'Jug'

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — The field for next Thursday's 17th annual Little Brown Jug for 3-year-old pacers could range from 12 to 20.

That was the consensus today as trainers, drivers and stand-out standardbreds moved to the lighting - fast half-mile county fairgrounds oval for the $80,000 classic.

If a dozen or more owners drop the $750 starting fee into the box Tuesday morning, they may vote on whether to split the race into two divisions. If more than 16 go, the race must be split.

Under the split system, two elimination heats would be paced, with half the field in each, and each heat's five leaders sharing in 30 per cent of the purse.

The top five in each jaunt would come back for a third heat, also for 30 per cent, and if one of the elimination heat winners finishes first he or she is the Jug victor. If a third horse takes the third heat, however, the three winners come back for a fourth try, with the remaining 10 per cent going to the victor.

Last year, Henry T. Adios finished second in one elimination heat, won the combined third, and then defeated Lang Hanover and Way Wave—winners of the first two heats—for the over-all verdict and $21,721.

Although 72 of the nation's better 3-year-old sidewheelers are still eligible for the event, only one in four or five is expected to chase the starting gate down the stretch in quest of the big money.

Coffee Break, son of the 1949 winner, Good Time, is slated as the early favorite. The C. & M. Stable of Archbold, Ohio, paid $25,000 for him as a yearling, and last year he won $52,663. Coffee Break's 1:57 in the Review Futurity at Springfield, Ill., is the fastest mile by a harness horse this season.

E. H. (Buck) Minnear, former taxi driver from Sidney, Ohio, is expected to be close up with Ranger Knight which he owns jointly with Dr. V. T. Scroggin of Hollywood, Calif. Minnear has reigned Ranger Knight to $125,000 in purses this year.

Other almost certain entrants are Thor Hanover and Gamecock, an entry from the stable of Johnny Simpson who has won three previous "Jugs"; Lehigh Hanover, Buxton Hanover, Mighty Tar Heels, Meadow Battles, Quick Pick, Meadow Newport, Play Bill, Smart Money, Lieutenant Gray and Yachtsman.

Question marks include Ritzy Hanover and Cathy J. Hanover, a pair of classy fillies. No filly has ever won the Jug.

Rhodes Rips Ohio Highway Department

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ohio's Republican candidate for governor, James A. Rhodes, trained his guns on the State Highway Department again over the weekend.

It's Rhodes' contention that the Highway Department has lacked a definite program since his Democratic opponent, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, took office in 1959.

The GOP candidate said Sunday that the DiSalle administration now is asking that the Cincinnati Circle Freeway be included on the interstate highway system. The federal government pays about 90 cents of every dollar of basic construction cost in this program.

"The 22 miles which the present administration now is requesting for inclusion on the interstate system has been eligible for federal money and construction since 1955," Rhodes asserted. "During the past four years there has not been one inch of paving laid on this freeway as the result of any action by the present administration."

North Carolina, a perennial football power, has not had an undefeated, untied team since 1898.

Jack Nicklaus Pockets Top Seattle Prize

SEATTLE (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, the big schoolboy from Ohio State, shot a 68 Saturday to win $4,300 and the Seattle open golf tournament.

Nicklaus, who plays in the Portland Open next week and then leaves for another quarter at Ohio Sat, toured the first nine in par 34, and his first birdie didn't come until the 12th hole. But he clinched the victory on the 518-yard par-5 15th hole.

He started out the first day with a 67. The second round was a 65, then came another 65, and his last round yesterday ran his total to 265, which is 15 under par on the par-70 Broadmoor course.

Two strokes behind Nicklaus was Tony Lema with 267. Then came Art Wall Jr. with 268, Bob Harrison at 269 and Gary Player with 270. Arnold Palmer finished with 271, along with Julius Boros, Don January and Al Johnston.

Browns Say Win over Giants Is Like Winning Two Games

CLEVELAND (AP) — Veteran Lou Groza, who has a Ph. D. as a placekicker, summed it up with:

"It's just like winning two games when you beat the Giants." And Coach Paul E. Brown, after five lean years in the last six, enthused:

"I like this team. I like Jim Ninowski. I like everything." Those were the big reactions Sunday after the Cleveland Browns opened the 1962 National Football League campaign with a 17-7 victory over New York's eastern conference champions.

It was only the second Cleveland conquest over the Giants in their last 10 meetings, and the Browns needed—and got—some breaks to make it stick.

But they also got some great service from their newcomers, Tom Wilson at halfback and Ninowski at quarter. Wilson who shifted from the Los Angeles Rams, netted 76 yards in 18 tries to take some of the pressure off ground-eating Jim Brown, who has led the loop in rushing the last five campaigns.

Brown, who hasn't lost a bit of his speed, power and elusiveness, gained 134 yards in 17 tries or almost eight yards per try. He also caught a pair of passes for 32 more.

With Ninowski, received in a Detroit trade for Milt Plum, at the helm all the way, the Browns moved 80 yards in 12 plays and 67 in 10 for their touchdowns, and Groza clinched it with a 29-yard field goal.

Brown got the first score, bulging over from the nine, and Ninowski passed 17 yards to Rich Kreitling for the other touchdown—one of the eight he completed in 19 tries for 147 yards.

The contest drew 81,115 fans, greatest opening day crowd in history and second largest ever to see the Browns in action.

They saw a new type of Brown offense, with tricky reverses, triple handling of the ball, running on apparent passing downs, and passing on running downs.

Wilson and the Giants' Erich Barnes were tossed out of the game for some fourth-quarter fisticuffs.

"He tackled me pretty hard and I threw the ball in his face when he got up," Wilson said. "Barnes and I are good friends, and he didn't mean to hurt me with the tackle. I just made a mistake, and I'm sorry for it."

Practically all the players and officials were in the melee, but no one was hurt.

Kansas City Hurler Breaks Walk Mark

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Bill Fischer, Kansas City Athletics pitcher with a 4-9 record, has broken a mark set 49 years ago by the famed Christy Mathewson. Fischer has worked 69 1-3 consecutive innings without allowing a base on balls.

The old major league record of 68 1-3 innings was set by Mathewson with the New York Giants in 1913.

Fischer, 32, broke the record Saturday night as the Athletics beat Baltimore in a doubleheader, 4-3 in 10 innings and 5-4 in 11 innings. Fischer worked 7 2-3 innings of the second game.

Owner Charles O. Finley promised to tear up Fischer's contract and give him a new one with a $1,000 raise.

Senate Debates New Trade Bill

New JFK Authority On Tariffs Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate begins debate today on a trade expansion bill which would give President Kennedy unprecedented new authority to cut tariffs.

Leaders hope for passage in a few days of the measure aimed at winning mutual trade concessions from other countries.

The President has said the bill would give the nation "a new and bold instrument of American trade policy" and has given it a top priority rating in his legislative program.

Many members of Kennedy's Cabinet and other high administration officials have gone to Capitol Hill during months of congressional hearings to plead for passage of the measure.

The House has passed the bill and the Senate Finance Committee has approved it, sending the bill to the floor Friday after a series of key votes resulting in unbroken administration victories.

However, several senators were ready to vote for amendments to knock out or water down major sections.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he was prepared to run the Senate early and late on the bill. If it is passed quickly, Congress may be able to finish its business by Sept. 29, he said.

On Thursday the House will debate another major item standing in the way of adjournment—the foreign aid appropriations bill.

Senate-House conferees will meet during the week on such important measures as tax revision, federal aid for colleges, farm legislation and self-employed pensions.

The trade bill would extend the 25-year-old reciprocal trade law for another five years, authorize a 50 per cent cut in all present tariffs, give the President the right to wipe out duties on products for which the United States and the European Common Market account for 80 per cent of world trade, and make possible a variety of government assistance for companies and workers harmed by imports.

for its first Sunday of 16,350—or 55 per cent of the county's population. They received Type I vaccine.

A spokesman for the county health department called the showing "horrible" and said all five distribution centers in the county were flooded with telephone calls as a result of publicity received by the vaccine.

Secretary Anthony J. Celebrezze—whose Health, Education and Welfare Department embraces the Public Health Service—said Sunday on the NBC television program "Meet the Press" that the odds are one million to one against an adult who has taken Type III Sabin oral vaccine developing the disease.

Celebrezze said that with these odds, he would be willing to take the vaccine himself.

He said that decisions on the vaccine were made by Surgeon General Luther Terry and other experts and by local health officials.

Final decision on whether Type III should be given to adults in mass immunization programs would be made by local authorities even if there was no question about safety, he said.

Celebrezze said there was no incident involving a child who had taken Type III oral vaccine.

A spokesman for the Public Health Service records showed that at least four children developed polio after taking Type III oral vaccine.

Celebrezze replied: "The cases which we cited are those in which there was considered to be a relationship between the vaccine and the disease."

The secretary added that in the children's cases cited by the spokesman, no direct relationship between the vaccine and the contraction of the disease had been established.

Some Canadian and New York authorities, a spokesman noted, had halted Type III vaccine programs, while other communities were going ahead with immunization programs, and he asked Celebrezze to comment on this.

Celebrezze's comment was: "It's a question on which reasonable minds may differ."

Residential, County Fund Drive Will Begin Sept. 24

The Business, Industrial and Special Groups Divisions of the Pickaway County Community Fund which kicked off their phase of the fund campaign on Friday will continue their efforts through Sept. 22.

The residential and county drive will commence on Sept. 24 and will be completed Oct. 3.

Earl Palm, general campaign chairman, stressed that next week will be a very important phase of the campaign. "We feel that more than $27,000 must be raised by the Business, Industrial and Special Groups divisions if we are successful in reaching our goal of $34,750," he said.

"We are hopeful that people will give at their place of employment and that a great many businesses will join the '100 per cent Club'," Palm stated.

THE "100 per cent Club" consists of business groups of three or more persons who all contribute to the Community Fund. Large businesses with more than 25 employees may divide their workers into several groups and each will receive separate recognition for 100 per cent contributions.

The "100 per cent Club" members will receive pins to wear and the group name will be published.

People who give at their place of employment should display their window sticker at their home so they will not be contacted during the residential and county drive.

Leaders of the drive being conducted next week are:

Robert Johnson and Bill Stout, chairman and vice chairman of the Business Division; Vernon Hawks and Harold Moffitt, chairman and vice chairman of the Industrial Division; and Doug Cotterman and Don Colegrove, chairman and vice chairman of Special Groups Division.

The six agencies of the Pickaway County Community Fund are the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Youth Canteen and Well-Child Clinic.

Well-Child Clinic Operation Earns Respect of Countians

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third in a series of stories on "Know Your Community Fund." The articles describe the functions and services of the six agencies supported by the Community Fund in Pickaway County. Benefitted are the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the Well-Child Clinic, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and the Youth Canteen. Today's story tells of the operation of the Well-Child Clinic.

An agency of the Pickaway County Community Fund which has earned the respect and growing appreciation of Pickaway County Citizens since its inception three years ago is the Well-Child Clinic.

Well-Child Clinic has a primary function of providing continuous health supervision for those pre-school age children of Pickaway County, whose parents are financially unable to give their children this care, to furnish a medium for teaching fundamental child care to parents who have no other way of learning.

The Well-Child Clinic is sponsored by the Pickaway County Medical Assn., the Pickaway County Medical Auxiliary and the Pickaway County Registered and Graduate Nurses Assn. whose members furnish volunteer unpaid services.

The Trustees of the Pickaway County Community Fund have allocated five per cent of the Fund's budget to the Well-Child Clinic, which this year will amount to $1,800 if the goal is achieved. This money is used for direct medical services for children registered with the Well-Child Clinic and for medical supplies used in the clinic.

CHILDREN between the ages of 2-6 who reside in Pickaway County and who are referred to the Well-Child Clinic by local agencies or doctors are eligible for services.

The Well-Child Clinic is held the second Wednesday of each month in the basement of Berger Hospital. Facilities are furnished free by the Berger Hospital Board of Governors.

In 1961 these services were reported by the Well-Child Clinic and made possible by the Pickaway County Community Fund:

A total of 638 clinic visits; 156 new patients admitted during the year; 408 medical examinations given by local doctors; 735 immunizations given; 38 clinic patients followed up by medical, surgical or dental corrective procedures; 14 pre-school physical examinations for 6-year-olds entering first grade at city or county schools.

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—"Sam Benedict" will have to be fattened up considerably if NBC's new lawyer-series is to replace "Perry Mason" in the eyes and hearts of the Saturday night television audience.

Unhappily, Sam's rather pathetic skeleton was all too apparent on first sight this past weekend, in spite of frantic and obvious efforts to pad, divert and conceal.

Edmond O'Brien plays the San Francisco harrister breathlessly and turbulently, rushing around to handle crisis after crisis—getting a client acquitted of murder, collecting overdue rent and, in the main thread of plot, forestalling a blackmailing lawsuit.

It was in the principal story that the toothpaste-thin plot was glaringly visible. Sam's "good friend" Mike died suddenly, and Mike's evil brother, threatened to try to break the will in an attempt to get a big share.

"Show of the Week" bounced back strong, Sunday night with an offbeat morality play, "The Outpost." A five-man cast of competent performers—the men at an observation outpost of some nameless country at war—underscored author Roger O. Hirson's point, that it is easier to face certain destruction than shame.

The colonel (Claude Rains) was a thief; the captain (Richard Conte) a martinet who had marched the platoon into a quagmire; the lieutenant (Keir Dullea) a coward; the sergeant (Neville Brand) a murderer, and the private (Everett Sloane) a cuckold.

None was legally convicted, but their shame was known. So they all chose to remain in their outpost, ignoring the advance of the enemy, rather than return to their old lives.

It was interesting, intelligent and stimulating—a fine harbinger for the series' new NBC season.

Joey Bishop also returned to NBC — on Saturday night. This season he is more poised, more famous, and a successful established night-club comedian. He also has picked up a wife on the show.

"It's a Man's World," premiere, NBC, 7:30-8:30 (EDT)—new series about four boys in a houseboat; "Saints and Sinners," premiere, NBC, 8:30-9:30 — Nick Adams stars as a reporter in a new newspaper dramatic series; "Stump the Stars," CBS, 10:30-11 — "Pantomime Quiz" in thin disguise with Pat Harrington Jr. as charades master.

Returning shows: "I've Got a Secret," CBS, 8-8:30 — Garry Moore and his group of panelists in a new time period; "The Price is Right," NBC, 9:30-10 — Bill Cullen and the game at a new time.

News special — "America's Cup Race," NBC, 10-11—documentary treatment of the international yacht race.

Paris Makes Big Hit with Ohio Couple

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The people of Paris made the most impression on Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Phillips of Findlay, who went to the French capital for a 20th wedding anniversary dinner arranged by Phillips as a surprise for his wife.

The couple arrived at Cleveland Hopkins Airport late Sunday looking a bit tired but flushed with the excitement of travel and bewildered by the publicity they had received.

"It's nice to be back," said Mrs. Phillips, "because I was worried about the children. But the time was kind of short."

The children, Michael, 16, and Monda, 12, stayed with friends while their parents were away. Phillips and his wife traveled light. Their baggage consisted of one suitcase, which he sneaked into the car before they left Findlay Sept. 12, ostensibly for an anniversary dinner in Cleveland.

When they arrived in Cleveland Phillips told his wife they were going to fly to New York for the dinner. At New York they boarded an Icelandic plane, with Phillips explaining they were going to Iceland for the celebration. In Iceland he told his wife they were going to Luxembourg and when the plane landed there last Thursday, he told her of the surprise he had planned for her in Paris.

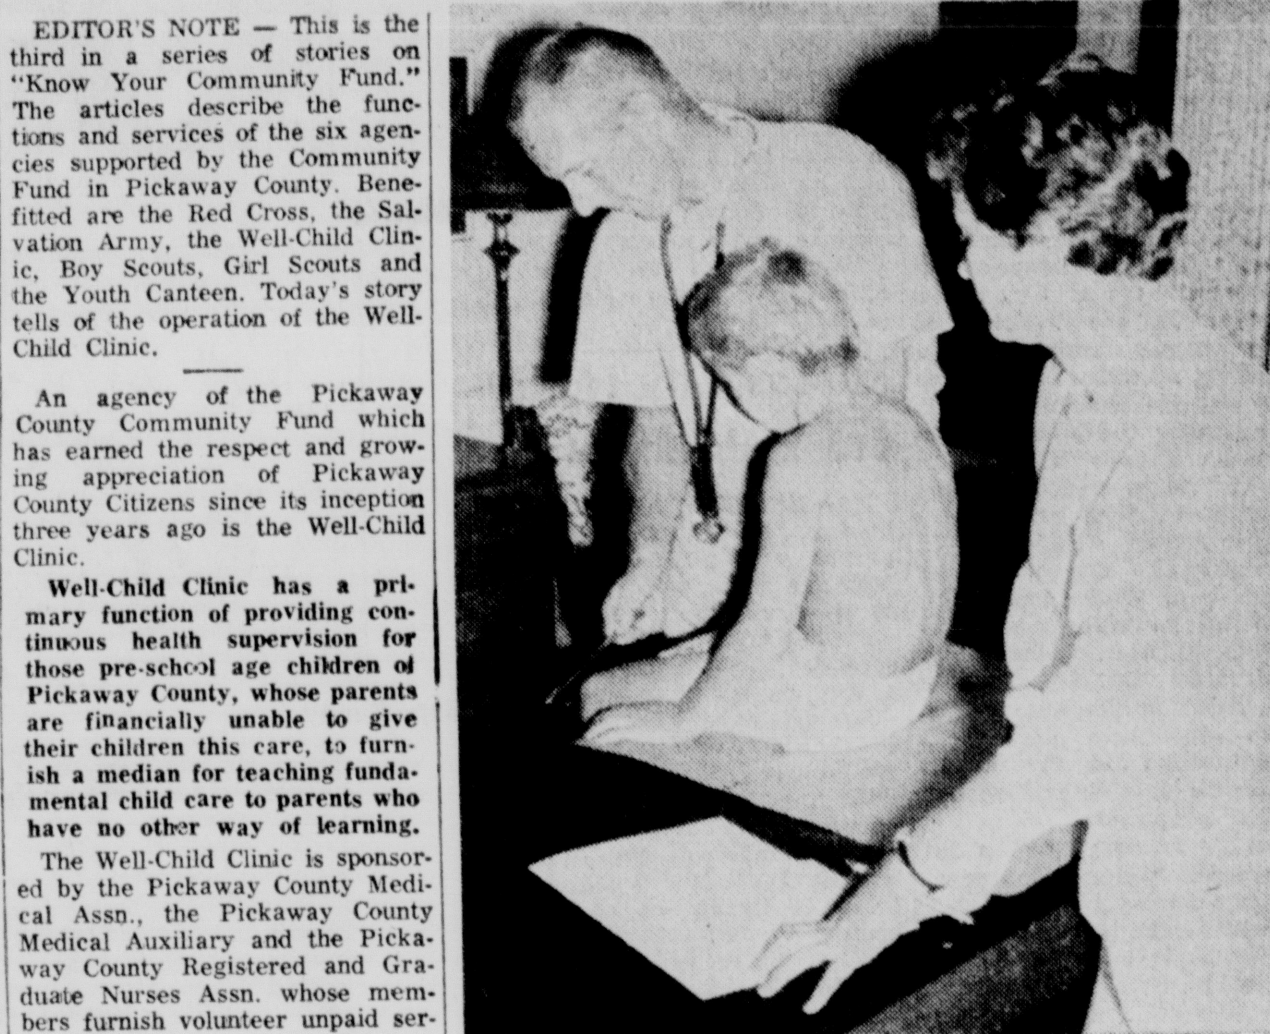

"I enjoyed it very much," Mrs. Phillips said. "It was a wonderful surprise."

Senate Debates New Trade Bill

New JFK Authority On Tariffs Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate begins debate today on the trade expansion bill which would give President Kennedy unprecedented new authority to cut tariffs.

Leaders hope for passage in a few days of the measure aimed at winning mutual trade concessions from other countries.

The President has said the bill would give the nation "a new and bold instrument of American trade policy" and has given it a top priority rating in his legislative program.

Many members of Kennedy's Cabinet and other high administration officials have gone to Capitol Hill during months of congressional hearings to plead for passage of the measure.

The House has passed the bill and the Senate Finance Committee has approved it, sending the bill to the floor Friday after a series of key votes resulting in unbroken administration victories.

However, several senators were ready to vote for amendments to knock out or water down major sections.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he was prepared to run the Senate early and late on the bill. If it is passed quickly, Congress may be able to finish its business by Sept. 29, he said.

On Thursday the House will debate another major item standing in the way of adjournment—the foreign aid appropriations bill.

Senate-House conferees will meet during the week on such important measures as tax revision, federal aid for colleges, farm legislation and self-employed pensions.

The trade bill would extend the 28-year-old reciprocal trade law for another five years, authorize a 50 per cent cut in all present tariffs, give the President the right to wipe out duties on products for which the United States and the European Common Market account for 80 per cent of world trade, and make possible a variety of government assistance for companies and workers harmed by imports.

Sabin . . .

for its first Sunday of 16,350—or 55 per cent of the county's population. They received Type I vaccine.

A spokesman for the county health department called the showing "horrible" and said all five distribution centers in the county were flooded with telephone calls as a result of publicity received by the vaccine.

Secretary Anthony J. Celebrezze—whose Health, Education and Welfare Department embraces the Public Health Service—said Sunday on the NBC television program "Meet the Press" that the odds are one million to one against an adult who has taken Type III Sabin oral vaccine developing the disease.

Celebrezze said that with these odds, he would be willing to take the vaccine himself.

He said that decisions on the vaccine were made by Surgeon General Luther Terry and other experts and by local health officials.

Final decision on whether Type III should be given to adults in mass immunization programs would be made by local authorities even if there was no question about safety, he said.

Celebrezze said there was no incident involving a child who had taken Type III oral vaccine.

A spokesman then said Public Health Service records showed that at least four children developed polio after taking Type III oral vaccine.

Celebrezze replied: "The cases which we cited are those in which there was considered to be a relationship between the vaccine and the disease."

The secretary added that in the children's cases cited by the newsmen, no direct relationship between the vaccine and the contraction of the disease had been established.

Some Canadian and New York authorities, a newsmen noted, had halted Type III vaccine programs, while other communities were going ahead with immunization programs, and he asked Celebrezze to comment on this.

Celebrezze's comment was: "It's a question on which reasonable minds may differ."

Residential, County Fund Drive Will Begin Sept. 24

The Business, Industrial and Special Groups Divisions of the Pickaway County Community Fund which kicked off their phase of the fund campaign on Friday will continue their efforts through Sept. 22.

The residential and county drive will commence on Sept. 24 and will be completed Oct. 3.

Earl Palm, general campaign chairman, stressed that next week will be a very important phase of the campaign. "We feel that more than $27,000 must be raised by the Business, Industry and Special Groups divisions if we are successful in reaching our goal of $34,750," he said.

"We are hopeful that people will give at their place of employment and that a great many businesses will join the '100 per cent Club,'" Palm stated.

THE "100 per cent Club" consists of business groups of three or more persons who all contribute to the Community Fund. Large businesses with more than 25 employees may divide their Special Groups Divisions of the Pickaway County Community Fund which kicked off their phase of the fund campaign on Friday will continue their efforts through Sept. 22.

The "100 per cent Club" members will receive pins to wear and the group name will be published.

People who give at their place of employment should display their window sticker at their home so they will not be contacted during the residential and county drive.

Leaders of the drive being conducted next week are:

Robert Johnson and Bill Stout, chairman and vice chairman of the Business Division; Vernon Hawks and Harold Moffitt, chairman and vice chairman of the Industry Division; and Doug Cotterman and Don Colegrove, chairman and vice chairman of Special Groups Division.

The six agencies of the Pickaway County Community Fund are the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Youth Canteen and Well-Child Clinic.

NEW YORK (AP)—"Sam Benedict" will have to be fattened up considerably if NBC's new lawyer-series is to replace "Perry Mason" in the eyes and hearts of the Saturday night television audience.

Unhappily, Sam's rather pathetic skeleton was all too apparent on first sight this past weekend, in spite of frantic and obvious efforts to pad, divert and conceal.

Edmond O'Brien plays the San Francisco barrister breathlessly and turbulently, rushing around to handle crisis after crisis—getting a client acquitted of murder, collecting overdue rent and, in the main thread of plot, forestalling a blackmailing lawsuit.

It was in the principal story that the toothpaste-plot was glaringly visible. Sam's good friend Mike died suddenly, and Mike's evil brother, threatened to try to break the will in an attempt to get a big share.

"Show of the Week" bounced back strong, Sunday night with an offbeat morality play, "The Outpost." A five-man cast of competent performers—the men at an observation outpost of some nameless country at war—underscored author Roger O. Hirson's point, that it is easier to face certain destruction than shame.

The colonel (Claude Rains) was a thief; the captain (Richard Conte) a martinet who had marched the platoon into a quagmire; the lieutenant (Keir Dullea) a coward; the sergeant (Neville Brand) a murderer, and the private (Everett Sloane) a cuckold.

Well-Child Clinic Operation Earns Respect of Countians

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third in a series of stories on "Know Your Community Fund." The articles describe the functions and services of the six agencies supported by the Community Fund in Pickaway County. Benefitted are the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the Well-Child Clinic, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and the Youth Canteen. Today's story tells of the operation of the Well-Child Clinic.

An agency of the Pickaway County Community Fund which has earned the respect and growing appreciation of Pickaway County Citizens since its inception three years ago is the Well-Child Clinic.

Well-Child Clinic has a primary function of providing continuous health supervision for those pre-school age children of Pickaway County, whose parents are financially unable to give their children this care, to furnish a median for teaching fundamental child care to parents who have no other way of learning.

The Trustees of the Pickaway County Community Fund have allocated five per cent of the Fund's budget to the Well-Child Clinic, which this year will amount to $1,800 if the goal is achieved. This money is used for direct medical services for children registered with the Well-Child Clinic and for medical supplies used in the clinic.

CHILDREN between the ages of 2-6 who reside in Pickaway County and who are referred to the Well-Child Clinic by local agencies or doctors are eligible for services.

The Well-Child Clinic is held the second Wednesday of each month in the basement of Berger Hospital. Facilities are furnished free by the Berger Hospital Board of Governors.

In 1961 these services were reported by the Well-Child Clinic and made possible by the Pickaway County Community Fund:
